Introduction

This report is being issued belatedly due to technical challenges faced by the Funeral Assurance sector in transitioning to the International Financial Reporting Standard (IFRS) 17, which became effective on 1 January 2023. While the implementation of IFRS 17 required significant system and process adjustments across the insurance industry, the funeral assurance sector faced significant challenges to transition resulting in delays in compiling and submitting IFRS 17 compliant returns. Despite these challenges, the Insurance and Pensions Commission (IPEC) remains committed to providing stakeholders with accurate and comprehensive insights into the performance of the Funeral Assurance sector. This report reflects the latest available data and regulatory developments for the quarter ended March 2025 to ensure transparency and alignment with international best practice.

1.2 As at 31 March 2025, there were eight (8) registered Funeral Assurance companies, compared to nine (9) as at 31 December 2024. Of the eight registered entities, only seven (7) were operational. Six (6) of the operational assurers submitted their first-quarter regulatory returns, whilst one (Orchid Funeral Assurance) did not submit.

1.3 As at 31 March 2025, the Funeral Assurance sector had 102,337policies, a 16% decrease from 133,728 policies reported as at 31 December 2024.

1.4 The sector reported consolidated nominal Insurance Revenue of ZWG 73.3 million (equivalent to US$2.7 million at the prevailing official exchange rate) as at 31 March 2025. Of this amount, foreign currency denominated business amounted to US$2.4 million, representing 89% of the total revenue collected during the period under review.

1.5 Moonlight Funeral Assurance recorded ZAR180,000 from its foreign currency denominated business, a 25% increase from the ZAR 144,912 recorded during the comparable period in 2024.

1.6 All six (6) Funeral Assurers that submitted returns were compliant with the Minimum Capital Requirement (MCR) of ZWG 25,012.81, as prescribed in Statutory Instrument 59 of 2020. However, only five (5) entities were compliant with the approved US$ Indexed MCR of US$500,000.

1.7 Total assets for the sector amounted to ZWG776 million, equivalent to US$29 million, while total liabilities stood at ZWG109 million, equivalent to US$4.1 million.

1.8 Compliance with Prescribed Asset requirements remained critically low, with all six reporting assurers recording an average of 0.01% against the statutory minimum requirement of 10%.

1.9 The sector key financial highlights are indicated below:

Section C

ECONOMIC OVERVIEW

3 Economic Overview

3.1.1 The Zimbabwe economic landscape in the first quarter of 2025 was characterized by a notable stabilization of both inflation and the exchange rate, following an initial inflationary uptick in January 2025. The stability was largely attributed to the resolute, tight monetary policy implemented by the Reserve Bank of Zimbabwe (RBZ) and Treasury fiscal discipline. While this policy stance resulted in temporary liquidity constraints, its primary objectives of price and exchange rate stability were achieved. The RBZ proactively addressed liquidity concerns through targeted interventions. Furthermore, the central bank continued its efforts to enhance the efficiency of the Willing-Buyer Willing-Seller (WBWS) foreign exchange market and to augment national foreign currency reserves. This was achieved on the back of the foundational work of the preceding quarter to underpin sustained economic growth prospects.

3.2 Domestic Macro-Prudential Analysis

3.2.1 During the first quarter of 2025, the economy experienced relative stability in terms of both inflation and exchange rate dynamics. This outcome was directly correlated with the stringent monetary policy framework maintained by the Reserve Bank of Zimbabwe throughout the quarter. Key measures included upward adjustments to the Bank Policy Rate and statutory reserve requirements. Increased exchange rate flexibility within the interbank market, operating within the context of the tight monetary conditions and fiscal discipline, further contributed to the observed stability. Strategic foreign exchange market interventions by the Reserve Bank facilitated efficient market clearing and ensured a consistent flow of foreign currency. It is important to note that the restrictive monetary policy led to transient liquidity challenges within the banking sector. The Reserve Bank responded to these challenges through the provision of an intra-day liquidity facility for banks and the planned disbursement of funds under the Targeted Finance Facility (TFF).

3.3 Inflation Developments

3.3.1 ZWG-denominated monthly inflation exhibited a downward trend in January 2025. Subsequently, a period of stability was observed for the remainder of the first quarter. The stabilization was a direct consequence of the prevailing tight monetary policy stance adopted by the Reserve Bank of Zimbabwe.

3.4 Exchange Rate Developments

3.4.1 The exchange rate demonstrated stability throughout the first quarter of 2025. The stability was a direct outcome of the monetary policy measures implemented in the latter part of the preceding year. Further evidence of the stability is the observed compression of exchange rate premiums. The Reserve Bank of Zimbabwe continued to deepen the Willing-Buyer Willing-Seller (WBWS) interbank market for foreign exchange, a strategic initiative aimed at enhancing price discovery mechanisms and overall market efficiency.

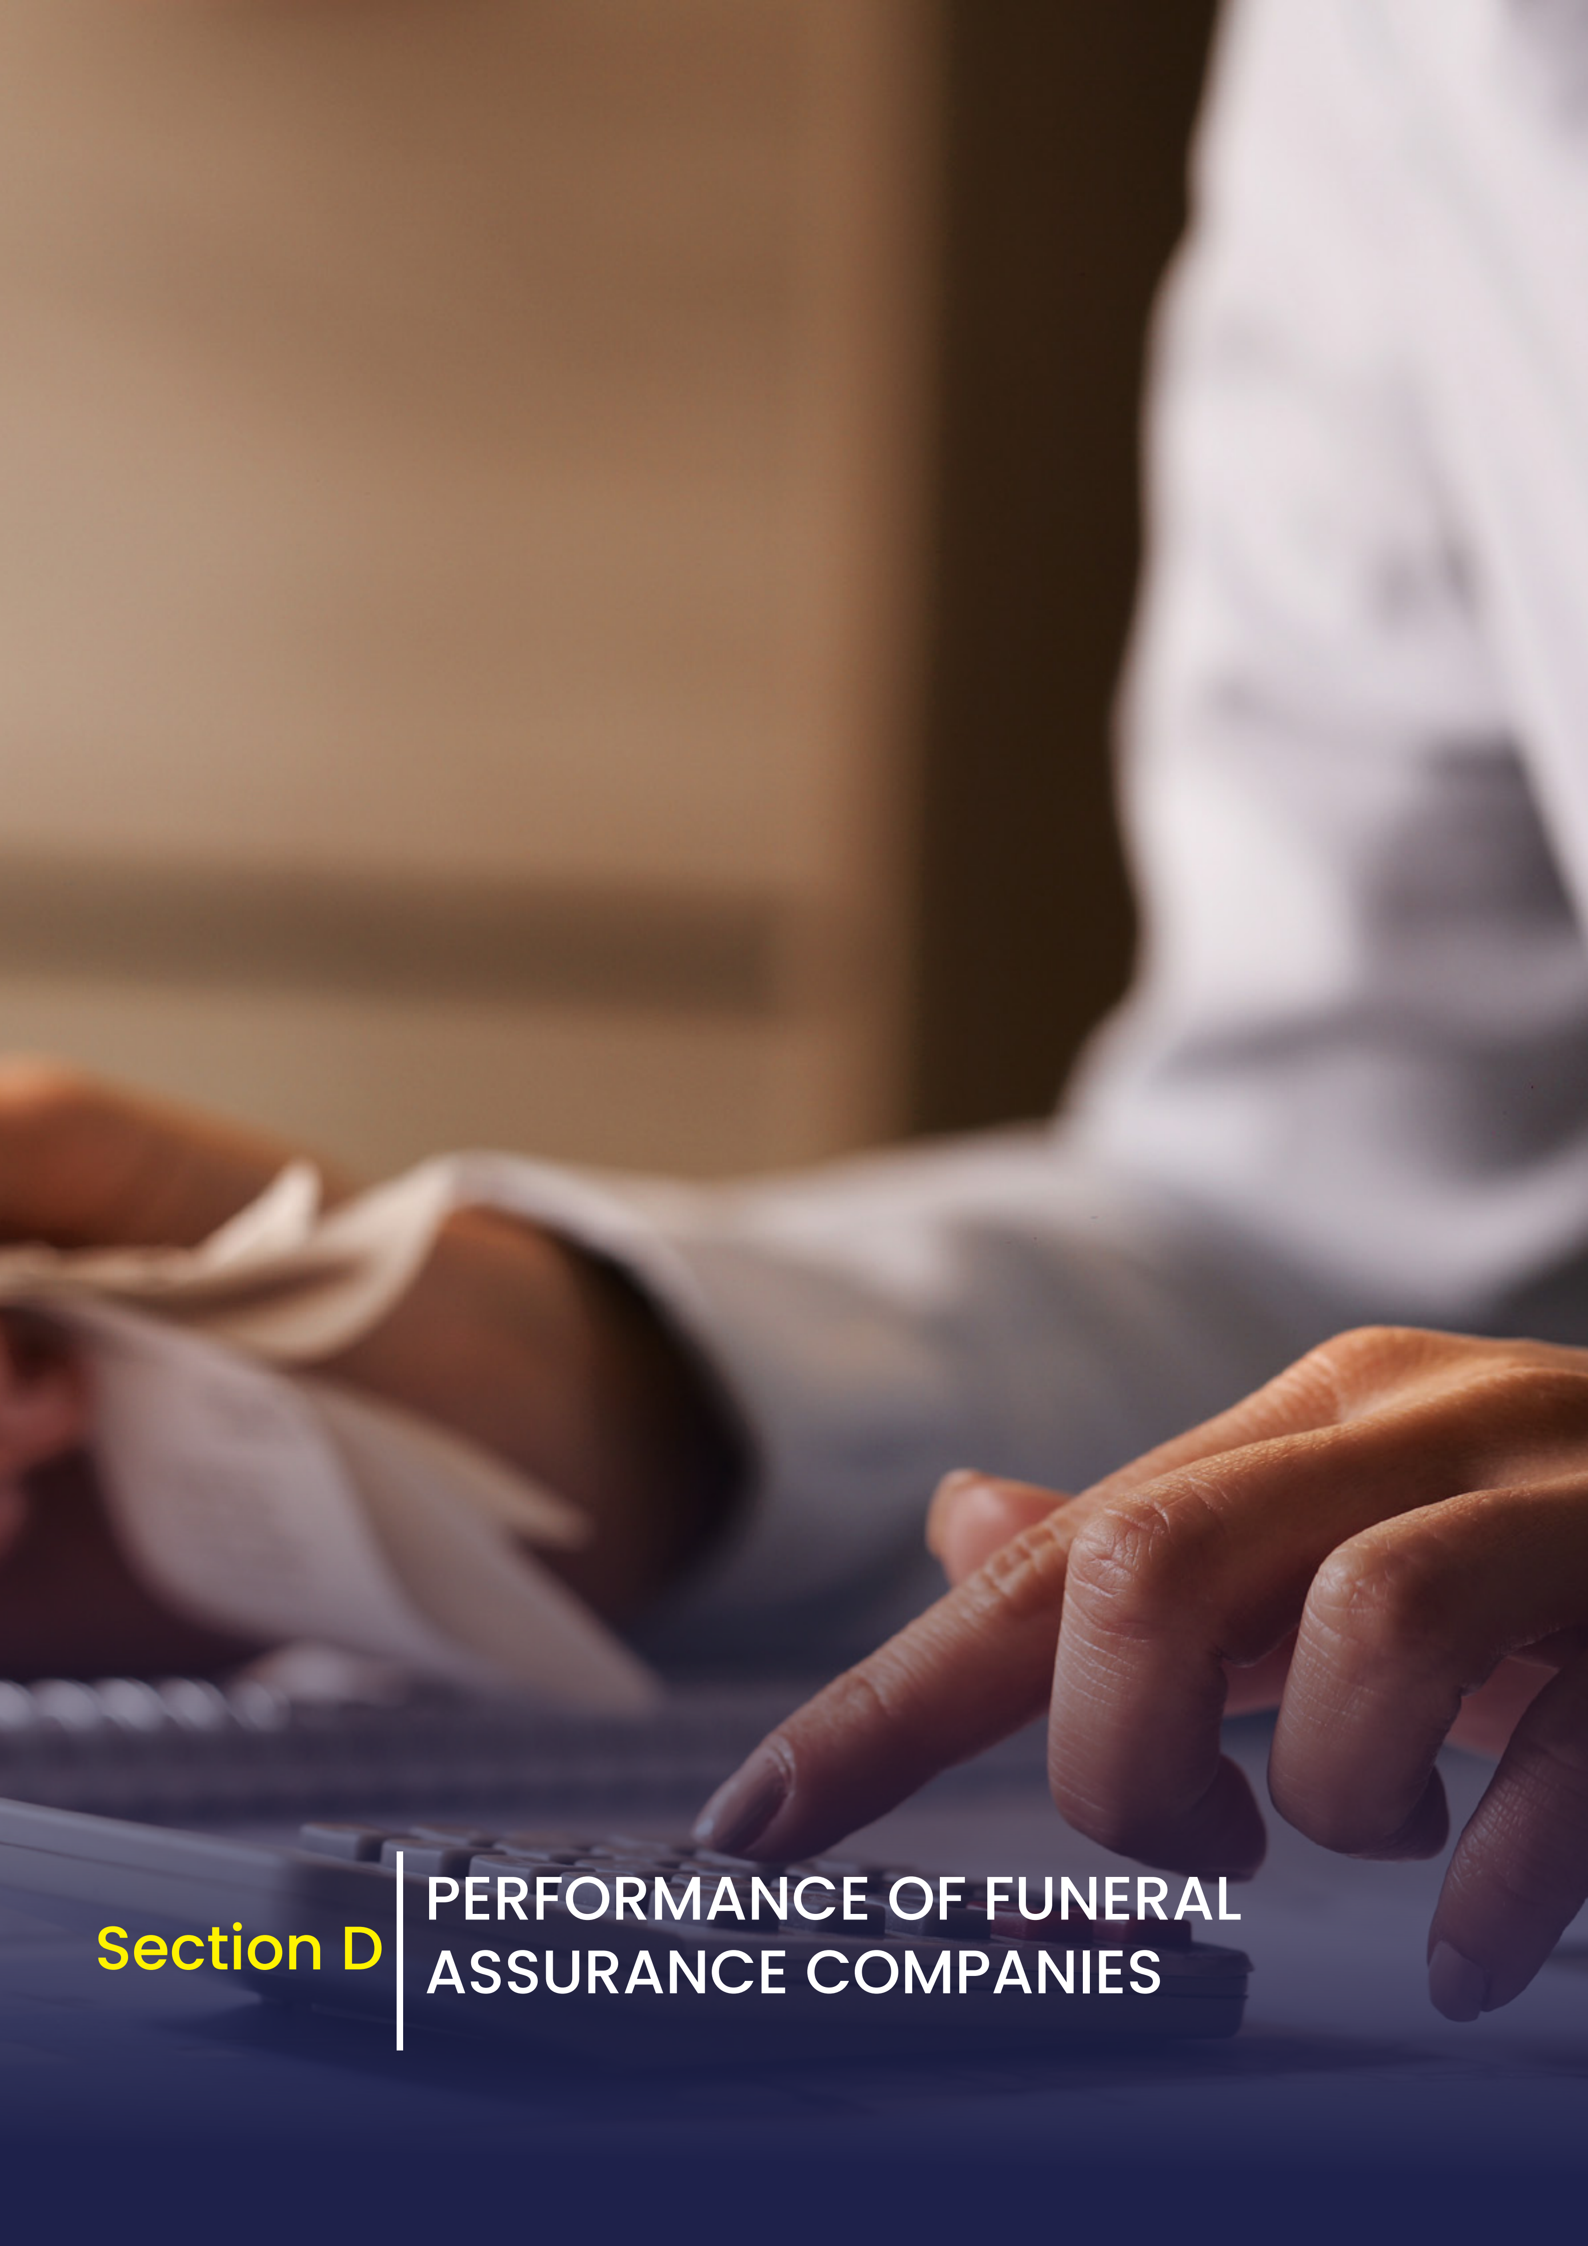
3.5 Stock Market Performance

(a) Zimbabwe Stock Exchange (ZSE):

The introduction of the ZWG currency in 2024 had a discernible influence on the performance of the Zimbabwe Stock Exchange (ZSE) during the period under review, resulting in the aggregate market capitalization of the ZSE registering a gradual increase from ZWG58.96 billion in January to ZWG62.96 billion in March 2025.

(b) Victoria Falls Stock Exchange Market (VFEX)

The performance of the Victoria Falls Stock Exchange Market (VFEX) in the first quarter of 2025 recorded a market capitalization of US$1.33 billion, representing a 4.27 percent increase compared to the US$1.27 billion recorded in the corresponding period of the previous year.



Section D | PERFORMANCE OF FUNERAL ASSURANCE COMPANIES

4 Performance in Terms of Business Written

4.1 The Funeral Assurance sector recorded nominal consolidated Insurance Revenue of ZWG73.3 million for the period ended 31 March 2025, which was equivalent to US$2.7 million at the prevailing exchange rate.

4.2 The total insurance revenue in foreign currency across the funeral assurance players grew significantly by 253% to US$2.74 million in March 2025 from US$776,530 same period, March 2024.

4.3 A detailed breakdown of the consolidated inflation-adjusted Insurance Revenue per funeral assurer is shown in Table 2 below.

Table 2: Insurance Revenue Per Company

Name of Company	March-25 (ZWG000)	March-25 (US$000)	March-24 (US$000)	Contribution to Total Insurance Revenue
Sunset	848.75	31.71	13.62	1%

First Funeral	13,303.60	497.04	207.13	18%
Vineyard	4,385.30	163.84	0.51	5.9%

5 Earnings

5.1 For the period under review, Funeral Assurers reported a combined Insurance service result of ZWG10.6 million, which indicates an underwriting profit during the period under review.

5.2 The Funeral Assurance sector average combined ratio was 143% for the period ending 31 March 2025, rising from 73.10% recorded in the same period in 2024. While the sector remains profitable, the 70% increase in the combined ratio indicates the erosion of profit margins for the sector, hence the need for effective cash outflow management to ensure sustainability.

5.3 Profit before and after tax for the period under review was ZWG7.13 million and ZWG4.16 million, respectively.

5.4 The sector recorded an average expense ratio of 27%, indicating that 27 cents per premium dollar was allocated towards insurance service expenses, separately from claims incurred, an increase from 10% (10 cents per premium dollar) recorded in the same period of 2024.

5.5 It is important for all sector players to continuously monitor their expenses so that they are sustainable.

5.6 The sector average return on assets (ROA) and return on equity (ROE) were both 1% as compared to –26.08% and –23.18% reported in December 2024, respectively for the period under review as shown in Table 1 above.

5.7 The improvement in ROE and ROA to both 1% suggests that the industry successfully reversed losses and started to record returns for equity holders, a key milestone for sustainability.

6 Liquidity

6.1 As at 31 March 2025, liquid assets amounted to ZWG74.7 million (US$2.8 million), unchanged from US$2.8 million reported as at 31 December 2024.

6.2 The funeral sector recorded an average current ratio of 0.55 times, a slight increase from the 0.53 times reported as at 31 December 2024. The position indicated potential liquidity problems to meet short-term obligations.

7 Capitalisation

7.1 As at 31 March 2025, all six (6) funeral assurers were compliant with the regulatory Minimum Capital Requirement (MCR) of ZWG25,012.81 as required by Statutory Instrument 59 of 2020.

7.2 In terms of US$ indexed capital, five (5) out of the six funeral entities were compliant with the US$ minimum capital of US$500,000, an improvement from four (4) entities which were compliant in the same period in 2024.

7.3 The industry recorded a capital growth of 40% from December 2024 to March 2025.

7.4 Below are the reported capital positions for the funeral assurers.

Table 3: Capitalisation Levels as at 31 March 2025.

8 Asset Quality

8.1 Total assets for the sector amounted to ZWG776 million as at 31st of March 2025, equivalent to US$29 million, which was a 5% decrease from US$30.4 million as at 31 December 2024 mainly due to the slight depression of the ZWG official exchange from ZWG 25.7985 to ZWG 26.7654 per dollar from 31 December 2024 to 31 March 2025 whilst there were no major asset valuations.

8.2 The asset base for the sector remained highly concentrated in non-current assets, which constituted 89% of the total assets, demonstrating that the sector's assets were skewed towards funeral service provision, while the remaining 11% was in current assets.

8.4 As at 31 March 2025, all Funeral Assurers recorded 0.01% investment in Prescribed assets, hence the whole sector was non-compliant with the minimum Prescribed Asset requirement of 10%, as stipulated in Statutory Instrument 206 of 2019.

8.5 Table 4 below shows the compliance levels with Prescribed Assets for each Funeral Assurance player.

Table 4: Prescribed Assets (PA) Levels as at 31 March 2025

Name of Company	Prescribed Assets - ZWG 000	Total Assets - ZWG 000	Prescribed Asset Ratio
Sunset	-	10,059.12	0.00%
Foundation Mutual	85.91	58,770.21	0.15%

9 Reassurance

9.1 None of the six (6) Funeral Assurers had reassurance arrangements in place during the quarter ended 31 March 2025.

9.2 The Commission, therefore, encourages the sector players to utilize reinsurance as a risk-mitigating tool in case of unexpected spikes in claims.

Insurance Contract Liabilities

9.3 Insurance contracts liabilities as at 31 March 2025 amounted to ZWG43 million under current liabilities. However, on long-term business, the sector recorded an actuarial surplus of ZWG168 million.

9.4 The sector's insurance contract measurements show that short term obligations are positive and normal, while long term contracts are expected to be highly profitable, resulting in a surplus.

9.5 As a result, the total insurance contract surplus amounted to ZWG125.67 million (US$4.3 million), as compared to US$4.9 million insurance contract liabilities reported as at 31 December 2024

10 Number of Policies

10.1 As at 31 March 2025, funeral assurers had 102,337 policies, a 16% decrease from 133,728 policies as at 31 December 2024, showing policy movements between quarters.

10.2 The Commission is, however, concerned about the significant decline in the number of policies and its implications for the long-term sustainability of the industry

11 Market Share

11.1 For the period under review, Moonlight Funeral Assurance and First Funeral Assurance dominated the Funeral Assurance sector in terms of consolidated Insurance Revenue, with a market share of 71% and 18%, respectively.

11.2 The distribution of the market share in terms of consolidated Insurance Revenue for the six (6) Funeral Assurers is shown in Figure 3 below.

11.3 In terms of total assets, the Funeral Assurance sector was dominated by one (1) player, Moonlight Funeral Assurance, with a market share of 77%. The remaining five (5) players shared the remaining 23%. This is illustrated in Figure 4 below.

Section E

REGULATORY DEVELOPMENTS

12 Regulatory Developments for the period ended 31 March 2025

12.1 Statutory Instruments and Circulars

The Commission issued six (6) Circulars to the Insurance Industry during the period under review, as shown in Table 5 below.

Table 5: Circulars Issued During the Quarter Ended 31 March 2025.

Section F

COMPLAINTS HANDLING AND CONCLUSION

13 Funeral Assurance Sector Complaints

13.1 For the quarter ending 31 March 2025, the Commission received nine (9) funeral assurance-related complaints. The Commission managed to resolve in full three (3) of these complaints, whilst six (6) were still work in progress by the end of the quarter.

13.2 Six (6) of the complaints were related to unsatisfactory service, two (2) were for repudiation, and one (1) was for delay in claim settlement.

13.3 The Commission continues to remind all sector players to adhere to the provisions of Circular 3 of 2024 on the timely payment of claims to uphold the integrity of the insurance industry and avoid regulatory sanctions.

14 Conclusion

14.1 The Funeral Assurance sector experienced moderate growth in business volumes and maintained underwriting profitability in 2025. However, the sector continues to face significant challenges, including weak liquidity positions, poor asset quality diversification, low compliance with US$-indexed MCR, persistent non-compliance with Prescribed Asset requirements, and dominance by a single assurer.

14.2 The Commission urges all Funeral Assurers to strengthen governance frameworks, improve liquidity management, diversify asset portfolios, and implement robust risk-based business models to enhance resilience and ensure long-term policyholder protection.
