Executive Summary

This report provides a snapshot and key highlights of the performance of the short-term insurance sector for the quarter ended 31 March 2020. It is of importance to note that during the quarter under review, inflation remained on an upward trajectory spiking from 176% in June 2019 to 676.39% in March 2020.

Total Gross Premium Written (GPW) by short-term insurers amounted to ZWL$817.93 million for the quarter ended 31 March 2020, reflecting an increase of 521.59% from ZWL$131.57 million reported for the comparative period in 2019. The total business written by short-term reinsurers increased from ZWL$60.63 million for the quarter ended 31 March 2019 to ZWL$461.27 million for the period under review. However, in real terms, total business generated by both short-term insurance and short-term reinsurers declined by 19.65% and 1.66% respectively during the period under review.

Total assets for short-term insurers increased from ZWL$1.90 billion reported as at 31 December 2019 to ZWL$2.66 billion as at 31 March 2020. Adjusted for inflation, the assets for the short-term insurers contracted by 5% as at 31 March 2020. Sixteen (16) out of eighteen (18) short-term insurers were compliant with the minimum capital requirement of ZWL$37.5 million as at 31 March 2020. The reported capital positions were computed without accounting for non-admissible assets as stipulated in Statutory Instrument 95 of 2017. The non-compliant players submitted their compliance roadmaps and the Commission is closely monitoring implementation of the compliance roadmaps.

Investments in prescribed assets decreased from 6.35% to 4.71% and from 10.50% to 3.04% for short-term insurers and reinsurers respectively during the period under review. Only two (2) short-term insurance players were compliant with the minimum prescribed asset ratio of 10% as at 31 March 2020. All non-compliant players submitted their compliance roadmaps and the Commission is monitoring them closely.

Short-term reinsurers reported an asset base of ZWL$1.68 billion as at 31 March 2020, reflecting a nominal growth of 47.71% from the ZWL$1.13 billion reported as at 31 December 2019. In real terms, the asset base for short-term reinsurers only grew by 1%. As at 31 March 2020, all the registered short-term reinsurers except one entity reported capital positions that were above the minimum capital requirement of ZWL$75 million.

During the quarter ended 31 March 2020, premium income by insurance brokers increased by 641% from ZWL$53.65 million reported for the first quarter of 2019 to ZWL$397.43 million during the comparable period in 2020. Insurance brokers recorded ZWL$57.37 million net brokerage commission for the first quarter of 2020. In real terms, insurance brokers premium written regressed by 4.58% while brokerage commission contracted by 1.07% under the review period. This is in line with the drop in the written premium by the primary insurers in real terms.

The majority of the insurance and reinsurance brokers had regulatory capital which was in excess of the required minimum threshold of ZWL$1.5 million. However, some brokers have continuously failed to submit statutory returns to the Commission. These brokers have subsequently been excluded in the preparation of this quarterly report. The entities have been fined and the Commission is considering instituting alternative regulatory sanctions to ensure compliance.

Section A

1. Insurance and Pensions Commission at a Glance

1.1. Introduction

The Insurance and Pensions Commission (IPEC) is a statutory body mandated with regulating, supervising and developing the insurance and pensions industry for the protection of policyholders and pension scheme members in Zimbabwe. This report outlines short-term insurance sector developments and IPEC's various activities in the short-term insurance sector consistent with its statutory mandate during the quarter ended 31 March 2020.

1.2. Terms of Reference

The activities of the Commission are guided by the following Acts and their Regulations:

- Insurance and Pensions Commission Act [Chapter 24:21]
- Pension and Provident Funds Act [Chapter 24:09]
- Insurance Act [Chapter 24:07]
- Money Laundering and Proceeds of Crime Act [Chapter 09:24]
- Finance Act [Chapter 23:04]
- Public Entities and Corporate Governance Act [Chapter 10:31]
- Public Finance Management Act [Chapter 22:19]
- Public Procurement and Disposal of Public Assets Act [Chapter 22:23]

Section B

2. Economic Developments

2.1. World Economic Growth Rates

The World economy has drastically changed since the outbreak of the coronavirus pandemic in November 2019. As jurisdictions implement necessary quarantines and social distancing practices under national lockdowns to contain the pandemic, the global economy has been put in a Great Lockdown which appears worse than the 2008 Global Financial Crisis.

The global economy is projected to contract by 3% as a result of the Covid 19 pandemic (IMF World Economic Outlook, April 2020) compared to the initial 3.4% growth projection of October 2019 (IMF World Economic Outlook).

The negative global economic growth projection is being driven by a slowdown in economic activity on the back of mandatory Governments and World Health Organisation (WHO) Covid-19 induced lockdowns across jurisdictions.

Advanced economies are projected to contract by 6.1% while emerging markets and developing economies are projected to contract by 2.2% (including China) and 1% (excluding China).

2.2. Sub-Saharan Africa

Sub-Saharan African economies are projected to contract by 1.6%, which is 5.2% points lower than the 3.6% growth initially projected in the October 2019 IMF World Economic Outlook.

The World Bank estimates that 2020 will mark Sub-Saharan Africa's first recession in 25 years.

2.3. Domestic Economic Outlook

Zimbabwe's economy is projected to contract by 7.4% in 2020 from an initial growth projection of 0.8% (IMF).

The economic downturn is projected in the wake of economic uncertainties characterised by liquidity challenges, weak domestic demand, low commodity prices, low production due to Covid-19 induced lockdown, loss of income, below normal agricultural production on account of drought and increasing inflation.

The economy is also projected to be adversely affected by low activity in tourism as a result of the extensive travel restrictions. The country is, however, anticipated to rebound in 2021 to a small growth of 2.5%.

2.4. Currency Reforms

The restoration of the monetary policy autonomy following the abandonment of the multi-currency system and the re-introduction of a mono-currency in 2019, has ignited exchange rate induced inflationary pressures and depreciation of the local currency against other vehicle currencies.

The gazetting of S.I 85 of 2020 facilitated the use of foreign currency by holders of free funds during the Covid-19 lockdown. While the S.I. provided flexibility to consumers to use free funds during this period, some business entities have proceeded to exclusively charge their goods and services in foreign currency in violation of S.I. 142 of 2019.

The insurance and pensions industry have not been spared from the prevailing inflationary environment with most economic agents now opting for foreign currency-denominated policies as opposed to Zimbabwe dollar-denominated policies as they seek to guard against regular review of sums insured.

Similarly, employers who are paying salaries and pension contributions in foreign currency have made a call for the payment of benefits in the corresponding currency in which contributions would have been made.

2.5. Exchange Rate and Inflation Developments

The local currency has consistently depreciated against major currencies notably the United States dollar since the introduction of currency reforms. The exchange rate depreciated from ZWL$2.5 in February 2019 to the current ZWL$25 pegged in March 2020. However, the gap between formal market exchange rate and the alternative market foreign exchange rate has persistently widened thereby creating further distortions in the market.

During the quarter under review, inflation remained on an upward trajectory spiking from 176% in June 2019 to 676.39% in March 2020.

Month-on-month inflation averaged 14.11% during the quarter under review. Inflation is expected to continue to be largely influenced by speculative tendencies especially around exchange rate movements. Furthermore, the COVID-19 pandemic has created supply-side disruptions thereby exacerbating inflationary forces.

2.6. Trends in the Real Estate Market

Property valuations in the United States dollar officially ended on 24 June 2019 following the gazetting of S.I 142 of 2019. This resulted in valuation inconsistencies especially for entities that had just concluded their annual valuations. Audited Zimbabwe dollar property revaluations are expected by 30 June 2020.

The property market has continually suffered from rental arrears, low occupancy ratios and rental adjustments lagging inflation rates.

In order to protect tenants, the Government gazetted Statutory Instrument 96 of 2020 to cushion tenants from the effects of Covid-19. The foregoing factors compromise policyholder benefits and values.

2.7. Trends on the ZSE

During the review period, the equities market was largely bullish, registering a 98.3% growth in market capitalisation from ZWL$29.77 billion at the beginning of the quarter to ZWL$59.04 billion by the end of the quarter.

2.8. Trends in the Money Market

Nominal monthly deposit rates for money market investments varied from 3.55% to 14.99 % against real negative returns of up to 86.66% and annual inflation rate of 676.39%. The Central bank also took a soft stance on its Overnight lending rate from 35% to 15% as the effects of Covid-19 took its toll.

Section C

3. COVID-19 Measures

3.1. Regulatory and Supervisory COVID 19 Measures

In response to the COVID 19 Pandemic, the Commission, in liaison with the industry instituted a number of measures to ensure business continuity and sustainability of the insurance and pensions industry.

Some of the measures instituted include the following:

a) Call for business continuity plans from the industry through circular 6 and circular 8 of 2020. The main purpose of the circulars was to ensure the following:-

- Business continuity and avoiding disruptions and delays in processing of benefits;
- Continued accessibility to the industry by policyholders and pension scheme members to ensure timely payments of benefits and resolution of members' queries and enquiries;
- Meeting of regulatory reporting obligations including filing of quarterly and annual returns; and
- Conducting of impact assessment of the pandemic on the industry.

b) Extension of deadlines for statutory returns. In view of the lockdown measures which resulted in most of industry staff working remotely from homes, the Commission extended the deadline for industry's submission of quarterly returns.

c) Selective suspension of pension contributions. Following disruptions in business operations which resulted in labour market interruptions, the Commission received and approved suspensions of pension contributions for some funds whose sponsoring employers were facing difficulties until such a time when the economy returns to normalcy.

d) Suspension of on-site inspections – the Commission suspended all onsite inspections and shifted focus to offsite inspections. The offsite inspections will inform future onsite inspections once the pandemic has been contained.

e) Adoption of virtual meetings with the Commission's clients and stakeholders, which has become the new normal under the current environment. The Commission is set to conduct its virtual Annual General Meeting on 30 June 2020.

f) Identified risks associated with the pandemic and came up with mitigatory measures as part of the Commission's risk matrix.

g) Supervisory information exchanges with other regulators under the auspices of the International Association of Insurance Supervisors (IAIS) and the International Organisation of Pension Supervisors (IOPS) on measures being implemented in response to the COVID 19 pandemic.

h) Coordinated industry's support to Government towards COVID 19 combative efforts following the declaration of the pandemic as a national disaster. The Commission facilitated industry's meetings with the Inter-Ministerial Committee on COVID 19, which is chaired by the Hon. Vice President, Cde. K. C. Mohadi and donations to Government.

The Commission will continue to monitor the impact of the pandemic on the industry, policyholders and pensioners, with a view to informing regulatory and supervisory interventions.

5. Short-Term Insurance Companies

Please refer to Appendix 1A-C for detailed statistics for each of the short-term insurers.

5.1. Performance in Terms of Business Written

Gross Premium Written (GPW) by short-term insurers amounted to ZWL$817.93 million, reflecting a 521.59% increase from ZWL$131.59 million reported during the comparative period in 2019. The growth is mainly as a result of currency reforms which resulted in continued increase in insurance premiums. However, in real terms, GPW declined by 19.65% as shown in appendix 5A. Figure 1 below shows the trend in volume of the business generated by short-term insurers since 2016:

NOTE: 2016, 2017 and 2018 figures are US$ denominated

The following table 2 shows the percentage increases in GPW for different classes of business:

NOTE: 2016, 2017 and 2018 figures are US$ denominated.

Motor, Fire and Accident business classes were the main sources of business in terms of GPW as shown in Table 2 above. These three business classes accounted for 77.27% of total GPW, that is, ZWL$632.04 million for the period under review.

Insurance players are encouraged to innovate and design new products to avoid exposure on few lines of business.

5.2. Capitalisation

Sixteen (16) out of the eighteen (18) short-term insurers reported capital positions which were above ZWL$37.5 million as at 31 March 2020. The two non-compliant entities in terms of MCR were CBZ Insurance and Clarion Insurance. The reported capital positions were, however, computed without accounting for non-admissible assets as stipulated in Statutory Instrument 95 of 2017.

The capital positions reported by short-term insurers for the quarter ended

5.3. Asset Quality

Total assets for short-term insurers increased from ZWL$1.90 billion as at 31 December 2019 to ZWL$2.66 billion reported as at 31 March 2020. The increase in assets is mainly attributable to fixed asset revaluations and equities which grew by 30.02% from ZWL$760.99 million as at 31 December 2019 to ZWL$989.43 million as at 31 March 2020. When adjusted for inflation, the assets grew by 5% during the period under review.

Premium debtors rose significantly by 31.90% from ZWL$399.31 million as at 31 December 2019 to ZWL$526.71 million as at 31 March 2020. The increase in premium debtors reflects lack of effective debt collection mechanisms by the short-term insurers.

Investments in prescribed assets increased by 164.90% from ZWL$36.22 million as at 31 December 2019 to ZWL$95.95 million as at 31 March 2020.

Only one (1) out of the eighteen (18) short-term insurers was compliant with the minimum prescribed asset ratio of 10%. The non-compliant players submitted compliance roadmaps and these are being monitored to ensure that they adhere to Statutory Instrument 206 of 2019.

Appendix 1C shows other indicators of asset quality.

The insurance players are encouraged to ensure they design investment models which can preserve the value of the assets as well as ensuring a balanced investment mix.

5.4. Reinsurance.

The sector's average retention ratio grew from 46.65% as at 31 March 2019 to 52.62% as at 31 March 2020. This shows an increase in the risk appetite by the short-term insurers.

Retention ratios for individual insurers ranged from 14.22% to 95.71%. The average reinsurance creditors to reinsurance premium ratio was 127.72% as at 31 March 2020, compared to 68.12% reported as at 31 March 2019. (See Appendix 1C for more indicators).

5.5. Actuarial Matters

The short-term insurance sector reported a 13.69% increase in total technical liabilities from ZWL$507.80 million as at 31 December 2019 to ZWL$577.33 million reported in the first quarter of 2020. The average liquid assets to total technical reserves ratio for the period under review was 121.36% as compared to 111.18% for the previous comparative period.

However, some insurers reported ratios which were significantly below 100%. (See Appendix 1C for the performance indicators of insurance companies in terms of Actuarial matters).

5.6. Earnings

The short-term insurers reported a nominal increase of 1,401.22% in after tax profit from ZWL$11.25 million reported for the quarter ended 31 March 2019 to ZWL$168.83 million for the comparable period in 2020. The significant increase in total after tax profit for the short-term insurance players was mainly driven by movements in unrealised gains from asset revaluations as well as currency reforms. In real terms, after tax profit for the short-term insurers increased by 94.06% during the quarter ended 31 March 2020.

Due to increases in the claims ratio as well as expense ratio, there was a slight increase in the combined ratio for the short-term insurers from 87.18% recorded during the quarter ending March 2019 to 89.35% during the period under review. Generally, a combined ratio of below 100% indicates that the insurers are making underwriting profits while the opposite is true for a ratio above 100%.

The underwriting profit increased by 462.17% from ZWL$6.61 million as at 31 March 2019 to ZWL$37.13 million during the comparative period in 2020.

The sector's average return on assets (ROA) and return on equity (ROE) were 23.68% and 11.88% respectively for the period under review. (For more performance indicators on profitability refer to Appendix 1C under earnings).

5.7. Liquidity

Total cash and near cash assets in the form of money market and short-term prescribed assets increased from ZWL$321.77 million as at 31 December 2019 to ZWL$490.03 million as at 31 March 2020. Individual insurers' acid test ratios as at 31 March 2020 ranged from 4.39% to 273.69% as shown in Appendix 1C.

5.8. Market Share for Short-term Insurers

Zimnat Lion, Old Mutual and Nicos Diamond were the market leaders in terms of GPW with a combined market share of 50.81% during the quarter ended 31 March 2020. Figure 4 shows the market share in terms of GPW and NPW for all insurers:

6. Reinsurance Companies

Please note that the figures for PTA Reinsurance Company (Zep-Re) contained in this report are only for the institution's Regional Hub Office located in Zimbabwe.

Detailed statistics for all reinsurers are shown in Appendix 2A-C.

6.1. Performance in Terms of Business Written

The gross premium written by reinsurers during the quarter ending March 2020 was ZWL$461.27 million. This represented growth of 660.74% from ZWL$60.63 million which was reported as at 31 March 2019. The amount of business ceded to retrocessionnaires also grew by a margin of 470.95%. However, when the figures are adjusted for inflation, GPW by the reinsurers declined by 1.66% from ZWL$60.63 million to ZWL$59.63 million as shown in appendix 5A. Figure 6 below shows the trend in volume of annual business written by short-term reinsurers from 2016 to 2020:-

NOTE: 2016, 2017 and 2018 figures are US$ denominated.

Total	461,266,613	60,634,297	660.74	-1%

As shown in Table 4, fire, motor and accident insurance business classes were the major contributors to the reinsurance sector's Gross Premium as they contributed 66.54% of the overall business written during the quarter ended 31 March 2020.

6.2. Capitalisation.

As at 31 March 2020, all the registered short-term reinsurers except one player reported capital positions which were above the minimum capital requirement of ZWL$75 million.

However, these reported capital positions were not adjusted in line with the provisions of Statutory Instrument (SI) 95 of 2017, which accounts for non-permissible assets for the purposes of Minimum Capital Requirements (See Table 5 below).

Key:

	The reinsurer reported a capital position which was above the MCR.
	The reinsurer reported a capital position which was below the MCR.

The average solvency margin for short-term reinsurers was 277.21% as at 31 March 2020, which was above 167.41% reported as at 31 March 2019.

All the reinsurers were compliant with the minimum solvency margin of 25% stipulated in Section 24(1a) (ii) of the Insurance Act [Chapter 24:07].

The solvency margin for individual reinsurers as at 31 March 2020 ranged from 133.11% to 680.86% as shown in appendix 2C.

6.3. Asset Quality

Short-term reinsurers had an asset base of ZWL$1.68 billion as at 31 March 2020, reflecting a 47.71% increase from the ZWL$1.13 billion reported as at 31 December 2019. The growth in assets of the reinsurers was mainly as a result of revaluations on property, equities and other related non-current assets. However, in real terms, the assets only grew by 1% during the quarter under review as shown in appendix 5A.

Investments in prescribed assets declined from ZWL$208.62 million as at 31 December 2019 to ZWL$48.56 million as at 31 March 2020. However, only one (1) out of eight (8) reinsurers was compliant with the requisite prescribed asset threshold of 10% as at 31 March 2020. The prescribed assets compliance thresholds for the short-term reinsurers is shown in Appendix 2C.

Premium receivables increased from ZWL$242.37 million as at 31 December 2019 to ZWL$295.77 million as at 31 March 2020, indicating a percentage increase of 22.03%. The increase in premium receivables is a huge challenge for the players as capital will be tied up in premium debtors. The Commission encourages players to ensure that they continuously design effective credit control systems to manage credit risk.

6.4. Actuarial Matters

Total technical liabilities increased from ZWL$265.86 million as at 31 December 2019 to ZWL$342.52 million as at 31 March 2020. The largest proportion of total reserves was attributable to Gross Outstanding Claims and Unearned Premium Reserves, which amounted to ZWL$288.13 million accounting for 84.12% of the total technical liabilities.

6.5. Retrocession

The sector's average retention ratio was 72.37% for the quarter ended 31 March 2020 compared to 63.18% that was reported for the comparative period in 2019. This reflects a general increase in risk appetite by the reinsurance companies.

The individual reinsurers reported retention ratios ranging from 44.55% to 97.52% for the period under review.

6.6. Earnings

Total profit after tax for short-term reinsurers increased from ZWL$18.62 million for the period ended 31 March 2019 to ZWL$250.36 million for the period ended 31 March 2020. The significant contributor to the increase in the profit after tax was unrealised gains from assets that rose by 1,460.90% from ZWL$15.31 million as at 31 March 2019 to ZWL$239.00 million for the period ending 31 March 2020. The increase in unrealised gains was mainly caused by exchange rate driven inflation. Notably, when adjusted for inflation, the total profit after tax for the reinsurers grew by 75% during the quarter ended 31 March 2020.

The average combined ratio for the short-term reinsurers increased from 84.84% for the period ending 31 March 2019 to 94.03% for the same period under review. The combined ratio and other ratios that relate to profitability for short-term reinsurers is shown in Appendix 2C under earnings.

6.7. Liquidity

Liquid assets held by short-term reinsurers slightly increased from ZWL$539.56 million as at 30 December 2019 to ZWL$551.33 million as at 31 March 2020. The average acid test ratio for individual short-term reinsurers rose from 65.71% as at 31 March 2019 to 76.76% as at 31 March 2020. The acid test ratios for short-term reinsurers is shown on Appendix 2C under liquidity.

6.8. Market Share for Reinsurers

As shown in Figure 7 below, the market leaders in terms of Gross Premium Written (GPW) were ZB Re, Zep-Re and Emeritus Re. These reinsurers reportedly controlled 50.55% of Gross Premium Written (GPW) for the quarter ended 31 March 2020.

Figure 7 : Market Share for Short-Term Reinsurers in Terms of GPW and NPW

In terms of market share based on total assets, Zep-Re, FBC Re and Emeritus Re were the market leaders, with a combined market share of 47.21%. Figure 8 below shows the market shares for each reinsurer in terms of total assets as at 31 March 2020.

7. Insurance Brokers

7.1. Submission of Returns by Insurance Brokers

In compiling the first quarter 2020 report, Ambassador Insurance Brokers, Auto and General Insurance Brokers, Hostcare Insurance Brokers, Pepro Insurance Brokers, Revival Insurance Brokers and Rainbow Insurance Brokers, did not submit their first quarter returns to the Commission and were therefore excluded from this report. The entities were fined for non-compliance. Going forward the Commission is instituting strict regulatory sanctions including deregistration of regulated entities for non-submission of quarterly returns.

The Commission requires Brokers to submit their returns through the IPEC online portal as the Commission is moving to digitalising the reporting system. In addition to the online portal submission, Brokers are also required to submit a completed and signed copy of the returns to the Commission on or before the 21st of the month following the end of each quarter.

For the first quarter of 2020, sixteen insurance brokers were fined for non-compliance as they failed to submit their returns to the Commission within the extended deadline of 8th of May 2020 as stipulated in Circular 9 of 2020.

7.2. Business Written

During the quarter ended 31 March 2020, insurance brokers wrote ZWL$397.43 million in premium income. This represented a 641% increase in business written compared to ZWL$53.65 million reported for the same period in 2019. Insurance brokers recorded ZWL$57.37 million net brokerage commission for the first quarter of 2020. Increased business volumes reported by insurance brokers are mainly because of gradual increases in premiums in line with inflationary trends. Inflation adjusted figures show that the insurance brokers' premium written and brokerage commission contracted by -3% and -1% respectively over the period under review.

The commission rate for insurance brokers averaged 16.39% for the quarter ended 31 March 2020, increasing from the 15.79% reported in the comparable period in 2019. The Commission, continues to urge all insurance brokers to engage registered intermediaries to avoid breaching laws and attracting regulatory fines and penalties through the engagement of unregistered intermediaries. Table 6 below shows key indicators for the business written by the insurance brokers.

Table 6 : Indicators of Business Written for Insurance Brokers

The top ten brokers accounted for 88% of the total cumulative premium written for the first quarter ended 31 March 2020.

The market leader in terms of premium written was Minerva-Risk Solutions which wrote business worth ZWL$93.48 million accounting for 24% of the business written in the period under review as highlighted in Figure 9 as follows.

7.3. Capitalisation

As at 31 March 2020, eleven (11) out of the thirty-one (31) insurance brokers reported capital positions below the required minimum of ZWL$1.5 million. The capital positions for the lowest and highest insurance brokers ranged from negative ZWL$13.46 million to ZWL$28.20 million, respectively as shown in Table 7.

Non-compliant brokers are expected to meet the new MCR by 30 June 2020.

7.4. Asset Quality

Total assets for the insurance brokers increased significantly by 551.79% in the comparative period, from ZWL$38.81 million as at 31 March 2019 to ZWL$252.96 million as at 31 March 2020. When adjusted for inflation, the total assets for the insurance brokers contracted by 15%. The asset base for insurance brokers is skewed towards cash and cash equivalents, premium receivables and land and buildings. Figure 10 below shows the insurance brokers' distribution of total assets.

The insurance brokers are encouraged to invest in value preserving assets as they determine the financial strength of their balance sheets as professional insurance advisors.

7.5. Earnings

Profit after tax for insurance brokers amounted to ZWL$13.24 million, reflecting a 656.57% nominal increase from ZWL$1.75 million reported for the comparative period in 2019. The significant driver to the increase were currency reforms which accounted for premium increases in line with inflation obtaining in the macroeconomic environment.

The currency reforms resulted in an adjusted real growth of 431.44% in profit after tax during the period under review as shown in Appendix 5B.

The sector's average return on equity (ROE) and return on assets (ROA) for the reporting period were 5.24% and 12.38% respectively.

7.6. Market Share for Insurance Brokers

For the quarter ended 31 March 2020, Minerva Risk Solutions, HRIB, CBZ Risk and Marsh Insurance Brokers Zimbabwe dominated the market in terms of both business written and brokerage income. Figure 11 below shows the market share for the top ten insurance brokers in terms of net brokerage commission (NBC) and gross premium written.

8. Reinsurance Brokers

Business Written

Reinsurance brokers reported ZWL$329.76 million in gross premium for the first quarter ended 31 March 2020 as compared with ZWL$27.27 million reported for the same period in 2019 reflecting an increase of 1,109.24%. Adjusted for year-on-year inflation, gross premium by reinsurance brokers grew by 58% during the quarter ending March 2020. The average commission ratio for reinsurance brokers increased to 20.14% for the quarter ended 31 March 2020 from 19.45% reported for the first quarter in 2019.

Table 8 below shows the key indicators for business written by reinsurance brokers.

	The broker reported a capital position that was above the MCR
	The broker reported a capital position that was below the MCR

Non-compliant entities have since submitted recapitalisation plans which are being closely monitored by the Commission to ensure that they fully comply with the minimum capital requirements.

8.3. Asset Quality

The reinsurance brokers reported total assets amounting to ZWL$326.92 million as at 31 March 2020, increasing from ZWL$42.35 million reported during the same period in 2019. The growth is on account of asset revaluations following currency reforms resulting in a nominal growth of 671.95% compared to real growth of 425% when adjusted for year-on-year inflation. The asset distribution for reinsurance brokers included land and buildings, furniture and fittings, motor vehicles, property and equipment, investments and cash.

8.4. Earnings for Reinsurance Brokers

Total profit after tax for reinsurance brokers increased from ZWL$273.27 million for the quarter ended March 2019 to ZWL$614.19 million during the period under review translating to a growth of 124.76%.

8.5. Market Share for Reinsurance Brokers

Minerva Re (Private) Limited remained dominant during the quarter in terms of business written, net brokerage commission and total assets for the reinsurance broking market. The market share for all the reinsurance brokers for the period under review is as shown in Table 10 below.

9. Complaints Handling

9.1. Complaints Resolution Report

A total of twelve (12) complaints relating to the short-term insurance sector were received during the period under review, ten (10) of which, were resolved while the other two (2) were still under investigation.

The following table shows the nature of complaints handled during the first quarter ended 31 March 2020.

Table 11 : Nature of Complaints

Nature of complaints	Number of complaints
Delay in settlement of claims	8
Loss of value on USD-denominated policies	2
Application of average clause	2
Total	12

On complaints relating to delayed settlement of claims, the Commission directed the insurers in question to settle the claims without further delay. In this regard, insurers are required to settle valid claims timeously to restore confidence in the insurance sector.

In line with the principles of consumer protection, the Commission developed a Treating Customers Fairly Framework. The framework lays out the Commission's expectations in terms of treating consumers fairly and outlines regulatory sanctions in cases where insurers do not treat their customers fairly among other things like unjustifiably delaying settlement of admitted claims.

In order to address complaints related to loss of value, the Commission has since issued Guidelines for the redistribution of valuation gains in response to currency reforms by the insurance and pensions Industry. The sector is required to redistribute revaluation gains in terms of Section 3 (1) (a) of Statutory Instrument 69 of 2020.

In relation to the application of the condition of average, the Commission is concerned with information asymmetry as policyholders believe it is the insurer's duty to advise on the need to review sums assured in line with changes in the operating environment.

Whilst it is the duty of policyholders to review their sums assured to ensure adequate cover, insurers are encouraged to educate policyholders on the need to regularly review the value of their assets especially during the current volatile macroeconomic environment. Meanwhile, the Commission continues with its consumer education awareness activities to sensitise policyholders about their rights and responsibilities.
