4. Economic Overview

4.1. Global and Regional Economic Outlook

Global output growth has been revised downwards to 3.2% in 2022 and 2.9% in 2023 (IMF, 2022). The slow growth is mainly attributed to negative spill overs from the war in Ukraine and the associated sanctions that disrupted energy and food markets.

Growth in sub-Saharan Africa is projected at 3.8% in 2022, reflecting the effects of elevated fossil fuel and metal prices for some commodity-exporting countries.

4.2. Domestic Economic Outlook

Ministry of Finance and Economic Development revised the 2022 economic growth for Zimbabwe from 5.5% to 4.6%, reflecting the impact of the external global environment and unique domestic circumstances. The 2022 growth projection is premised on improved mining and quarrying (9.5%), accommodation and food services (50%), electricity, gas, steam and air conditioning supply (12.2%), real estate activities (6.1%) among others, as shown in Table 2.

4.3. Exchange Rate Development

The Zimbabwe dollar lost its value from an average of US$1:142.4 as at 31 March 2022 to US$1:Zw$366.3 as at 30 June 2022. The depreciation was mainly driven by higher demand for foreign currency as a store of value, and forward exchange rate pricing due to high inflation expectations.

(US$/Zw$) – End of Period

4.4. Inflation Developments

The annual inflation rate increased to 191.6% in June of 2022, from 72.7% recorded at the end of March 2022, as driven by behavioural factors such as confidence, adverse future inflation expectations, and arbitrage behaviour and opportunities. The month-on-month inflation stood at 30.7% as at 30 June 2022, up from 6.3% recorded as at 31 March 2022. Figure 2 illustrates the inflation trend from June 2021 to June 2022.

4.5. Zimbabwe Stock Exchange Performance

The All-Share index, Top 10 index, and Medium Cap index experienced gains of 25%, 17%, and 58% respectively during the quarter under review. The stock market saw increases as a result of quick price changes and the success of businesses with listed stocks. The market capitalization increased by 24% from ZW$1.97 trillion in the previous quarter to ZW$2.44 trillion as at 30 June 2022. Table 3 below summarises changes in the key Stock Market indicators.

Victoria Falls Stock Exchange (VFEX) Performance

The VFEX All share index was also bullish, during the quarter under analysis gaining by 7.72% to close at 115.39 points. However, total turnover declined by 39.6% from US$5.3 million recorded in the first quarter of 2022 to US$3.2 million. Market capitalisation also declined in the quarter by 7.69% from US$253.7 million to US$273.2 million.

4.6. Money Market Developments

Savings Deposit Rates

The annual inflation rate at 191.6% as at 30 June 2022, remained higher than the rates on savings deposits, which were under 20%. This suggests that money market investments continue to yield negative real returns.

4.7. Covid-19 Updates

As at 30 June 2022, there were 541.3 million confirmed cases of Covid-19 worldwide, a 13% increase from the 479.3 million cases recorded at the end of March 2022. The total number of deaths caused by the pandemic rose from 6.1 million recorded as at 31 March 2022 to 6.3 million cases as at June 2022 (WHO, 2022).

The total number of Covid-19 cases reported in Zimbabwe rose from 246, 286 as at 31 March 2022 to 255, 586 cases reported as at 29 June 2022. Over the same period, the recovery rate increased from 96% to 97%. The number of deaths related to COVID-19 also increased, from 5,444 to 5,555 cases. A total of 4.6 million individuals were completely vaccinated as at 29 June 2022.

5. Performance in terms of Business Written

- 5.1. The Funeral Assurance Sector recorded nominal gross premium of ZW$1.62 billion for the half year ended 30 June 2022, an increase of 241.71% compared to ZW$474.61 million reported for the half year ended 30 June 2021.
- 5.2. After adjusting for inflation, the funeral assurance sector's GPW increased by 17.20% from ZW$474.61 million reported for the six months ended 30 June 2021 to ZW$556.24 million for the six months ended 30 June 2022.
- 5.3. In terms of forex business, the sector wrote gross premium of US$132,359 and 119,082 Rands for the half year ended 30 June 2022.
- 5.4. After adjusting for inflation, the funeral assurance sector's GPW increased by 17.20% from ZW$474.61 million reported for the six months ended 30 June 2021 to ZW$556.24 million for the six months ended 30 June 2022.
- 5.5. For the period under review, new business contributed 3.80% of GPW and the remaining 96.20% was from recurring business, an improvement in new business as compared to 2.06% new business and 97.94% recurring business recorded for the half year of 2021.
- 5.6. New business premium increase was 531.61% from ZW$9.76 million for half year of 2021 to ZW$61.63 million for the comparative reporting period in 2022. This indicates an increase in the uptake of funeral assurance policies by the insuring public. However, the overall contribution of new business premiums to the total premiums remains low.
- 5.7. Besides new business, the increase in GPW was also on account of recurring premium increases as funeral assurers sought to align both the premiums and policyholder benefits in response to the volatile and dynamic inflationary macroeconomic environment.
- 5.8. This is evidenced by an increase in recurring premium of 235.63% from ZW$464.85 million for the half-year ended 30 June 2021 to ZW$1.56 billion for the half-year ended 30 June 2022.

5.9. In nominal terms, seven (7) out of eight (8) players recorded significant growth of above 100.00% in GPW, and none of the players recorded negative growth.

5.10. For the six months ended 30 June 2022, life assurers wrote nominal gross funeral assurance business amounting to ZW$10.55 billion which was approximately seven times more than the ZW$1.62 billion written by the dedicated funeral players.

5.11. A detailed breakdown of GPW per funeral assurer in terms of recurring and new business is shown in Appendix 4.

6. Capitalisation

6.1. As at 30 June 2022, seven (7) out of the eight (8) funeral assurers were compliant with the regulatory Minimum Capital Requirements (MCR) of ZW$62.50 million as prescribed by Statutory Instrument 59 of 2020.

6.2. There has been an increase in minimum capital compliance from 62.50% to 87.50%. The increase was attributed to inflation driven revaluation gains on the sector's assets, at the back of fixed capital requirements.

6.3. The Commission continues to urge all players to be well capitalised at all times. The sector is also urged to adequately prepare for the new risk-based capital regime, which will be in line with the implementation of the Zimbabwe Integrating Capital & Risk Programme (ZICARP) in 2023. USD indexed capital requirements should be expected in the last quarter of 2022.

6.4. As at 30 June 2022, capital positions for funeral assurers ranged from ZW$5.29 million to ZW$519.76 million as shown in Table 4 below.

7. Asset Quality

- 7.1. Total assets for the Funeral Assurance Sector increased by 16.01% from ZW$4.45 billion as at 31 March 2022 to ZW$5.16 billion as at 30 June 2022.
- 7.2. The asset base for the sector remains highly concentrated in operational property consisting of 76.50% of the total assets. This concentration in operational property mainly arises from the need by the sector to invest in assets that are used for funeral service provision.
- 7.3. The Commission calls for prudent investment practices by funeral assurers considering the need to continuously hold assets that match their liability profiles.
- 7.4. The sector continues to hold investments in equities, cash and money market instruments in very small proportions relative to the overall asset portfolio.
- 7.5. The Commission also reminds the funeral assurance sector that the choice of the policyholder at the claims stage, on whether to be paid cash or to be provided with services should be respected as enshrined in the insurance regulations.

7.7. As at 30 June 2022, all funeral assurers were not compliant with the minimum prescribed asset ratio of 10.00%, as stipulated by Statutory Instrument 206 of 2019. Prescribed asset investments were very small as they accounted for an average of only 0.08% of the total asset portfolio.

7.8. The total amount invested in prescribed assets was ZW$4.20 million against an expected minimum amount of ZW$516.29 million, for the sector to comply with the 10.00% minimum prescribed asset threshold.

7.9. With the introduction of Gold Coins, that have been accorded Prescribed Asset Status, the Commission expects compliance ratios to gradually improve.

7.10. The Commission also continues to recommend the development of sector-specific projects that speak to industry needs for the possible conferment of Prescribed Asset Status as this will go a long way in enhancing compliance.

7.11. Table 5 below shows the compliance levels with prescribed assets for each funeral assurance player.

Table 5: Prescribed Assets Levels as at 30 June 2022

8. Reassurance

- 8.1. All funeral assurers had no reinsurance arrangements in place for the half-year ended 30 June 2022.
- 8.2. The Commission is aware of various engagements which the sector is having with their reinsurers to ensure that there are suitable reinsurance arrangements in place.
- 8.3. The sector is however encouraged to expedite the process, to ensure that players are effectively reassured, to enable them to pay high claims in the event of catastrophes.

9. Actuarial Matters

- 9.1. Total technical liabilities for the funeral assurance sector increased by 69.70% in nominal terms from ZW$1.43 billion as at 31 March 2022 to ZW$2.42 billion as at 30 June 2022. Future policyholders' benefits continue to be the major component constituting 99.75% of the technical liabilities, while unearned premium, gross outstanding claims and incurred but not reported claims reserves accounted for a smaller portion of 0.25%.
- 9.2. The increase shows that funeral companies are increasing their reserves in line with the increase in values of promised benefits.
- 9.3. Funeral assurers should approach reserving with prudence and determination of their reserves should be actuarially driven to ensure that they are reflective of the various risks that players are exposed to.
- 9.4. In addition, since the funeral assurance players offer benefit policies whose cost moves in line with inflation, they should continuously review their reserves to align them with their liabilities.
- 9.5. The Commission notes that the development of Mortality Tables currently underway will improve reserving and pricing of the products by the sector.

10. Earnings

- 10.1. For the period under review, seven (7) funeral assurers reported positive profit before interest and tax while one (1) player reported a loss.
- 10.2. The Funeral Assurance Sector reported a nominal increase of 347.24% in profit before interest and tax from ZW$59.34 million for the six months ended 30 June 2021 to ZW$265.39 million for the comparable period in 2022.
- 10.3. An increase in profit before interest and tax was on account of a notable increase in nominal GPW as players reviewed premiums in line with the prevailing inflationary macroeconomic environment.
- 10.4. The Funeral Assurance Sector's average expense ratio decreased from 65.33% for the half-year ended 30 June 2021 to 39.56% for the half-year ended 30 June 2022. This implies that for every dollar of the premium received, forty cents were spent on commissions, management and operational expenses.
- 10.5. It is important for all sector players to continuously monitor their expenses so that they are sustainable.
- 10.6. The average claims ratio and combined ratio stood at 20.57% and 60.13% respectively.
- 10.7. A summary of the claims incurred, operating expenses, commissions, and total costs for each funeral assurer for the six months to 30 June 2022, is shown in Appendix A5.

11. Liquidity

- 11.1. The Funeral Assurance Sector reported an average current ratio of 64.17% indicating insufficient current assets to cover for short-term contractual obligations and other current liabilities.
- 11.2. The Commission continues to urge the funeral assurers to endeavor to match their asset profiles with their liability profiles in terms of maturity and timing.
- 11.3. Asset-liability mismatch may result in players encountering liquidity problems
- 11.4. Funeral Assurers are encouraged to hold adequate and appropriate short-term assets that can easily be liquidated to allow them to meet their statutory short-term debts, operational expenses and fulfil their claim obligations.

12. Market Share

- 12.1. For the six months ended 30 June 2022, two players dominated the Funeral Assurance Sector in terms of GPW, with a total market share of 83.92%. The remaining six (6) funeral assurers accounted for the 16.08% difference.
- 12.2. The distribution of the market share in terms of GPW for the eight (8) Funeral Assurers is shown in Figure 4 below.

14. Funeral Assurance Sector Complaints

14.1. During the half year under review, the Commission received nine (9) funeral assurance related complaints. Of these complaints, seven (7) were resolved while two (2) were still work in progress at the end of the half year.

14.2. Unsatisfactory service remains a major source of complaints constituting 55.56 percent of the complaints, while repudiation of claims and delay in settlement constituted the remaining 44.44 percent of claims. Most of complaints on unsatisfactory service emanated from complainants who had higher expectations than contractual service as a result of not being conversant with terms and conditions of their policies.

Table 8: Complaints for the Funeral Assurance Sector

Nature of Complaint	Number of Complaints	Percentage of Total
Delay in settlement	1	11.11%
Repudiation	3	33.33%
Not satisfied with service	5	55.56%
Total	9	100.00%

14.3. The Commission encourages funeral assurance sector players to offer timely services of the agreed quality to avoid inconveniencing the bereaved families. Players should also engage and educate their clients regularly about the policies that they offer.

Suspicious Transaction Reports

15. Introduction & Background

15.1. Following the removal of Zimbabwe from enhanced monitoring by the Financial Action Taskforce (FATF) International Co-operation Review Group, dubbed the 'Grey List' in March 2022, the country is now focusing more on improving effectiveness of AML/CFT/CPF measures.

15.2. One of the deficient areas identified in the 2nd Round Eastern and Southern Africa Anti-Money Laundering Group (ESAAMLG) Mutual Evaluation Report for Zimbabwe of 2016 was low level of suspicious transactions reports (STRs) and activities filed with the Financial Intelligence Unit (FIU) by non-bank financial institutions including the insurance sector. The main reasons cited for the low reporting were:

- Majority of entities lack awareness on the implementation of control measures; and
- A lack of understanding of the protection offered under the Money Laundering and Proceed of Crime Act [Chapter 9:24] in relation to reporting suspicious transactions.

15.3. The 2016 Mutual Evaluation Report revealed that the insurance sector filed one (1) report in 2013 and four (4) reports in 2014. From January 2016 to April 2022, the FIU reported that only three (3) STRs had been reported by the sector.

15.4. It is, therefore, important to note that filing of STRs is a requirement in terms of the following Financial Action Task Force (FATF) Recommendations:-

Recommendation 20: All suspicious transactions, including attempted transactions, should be reported regardless of the amount of the transaction.

Recommendation 21: Financial institutions (FIs), their directors, officers and employees should be protected by law if they report their suspicions to the FIU. FIs should be prohibited by law from disclosing ("tipping-off") the fact that a suspicious transaction report (STR) or related information is being filed with the FIU.

15.5. Accordingly, requirements of Recommendations 20 and 21 of the FATF Recommendations were domesticated in the Money Laundering and Proceeds of Crime Act [Chapter 9:24], under section 30.

15.6. Therefore, Filing of Suspicious Transactions is a legal requirement, which is part of transaction monitoring. The main goal of transaction monitoring is to ensure that proceeds of crime should be prevented from entering the financial and other sectors or are detected and reported by these sectors.

What Constitutes a Suspicious Transaction Report (STR)

15.7. STRs must involve proceeds of crime or linked to or is to be used for terrorism acts or by terrorist organisations. Regulated entities must report any transactions including attempted transactions which could constitute proceeds of crime or be linked to terrorism or its financing.

15.8. A suspicious transactions report must be submitted directly to the FIU if there is reasonable ground to suspect that a financial transaction occurred or the attempted commission of an ML/TF/PF offence.

15.9. On 23 March 2022, the Commission issued Circular 16 of 2022 requesting regulated entities to register on GoAML a platform that facilitates communication with FIU and easy filing of STRs among other reporting obligations. All reporting entities must register on GoAML.

Typical Red Flags in the Insurance Sector

15.10. Entities should also be aware of elements of individual transactions and situations that might give rise to suspicion of money laundering and terrorist financing also known as red flags.

15.11. Boxes 1 to 6 highlights typical examples of red flags relevant in the insurance sector. The lists are not exhaustive.

Box 1: Funeral Assurance Product Red Flags

- Acceptance of payments or receipts from third parties
- Flexibility on early surrenders or partial withdrawal and without prohibitive financial loss;
- Tradability of the product on the secondary market
- Acceptance of overpayments.

Box 2: Transactional Red Flags

- The receipt of premiums from offshore and/or lightly or unregulated financial intermediaries.
- Premium paid from a foreign account in a different jurisdiction to the domicile or residence of the policyholder.
- Premium is paid by an unrelated third party
- Early redemption of a policy when the surrender value is less than the value of premiums paid
- Request for a purchase of a significantly large single premium policy for a large assured sum.
- Change in beneficiaries to include non-family members

Box 3: Intermediaries – Agents and Brokers

- Changes in employee or agent performance e.g., selling policy for cash, remarkable or unexpected increase sales volume
- Excessive commission paid to an intermediary.
- Premium financing arrangements between policyholders and intermediaries, which may obscure source of funds or large unusual cash payments.

Box 4: Reinsurers

- International business involving forex due to cross border nature
- ML/TF through establishing fictitious reinsurance companies or intermediaries, fronting arrangements or misuse of normal reinsurance transactions.
- The deliberate placement via the insurer of the proceeds of crime or terrorist funds with reinsurers in order to disguise the source of funds

Box 5: Customer Red Flags

Natural Persons

- Transactions involving persons residing in tax havens
- Transactions carried out on behalf of minors, incapacitated persons or other persons who may lack the economic capacity to make such purchases
- Transactions involving persons who are being tried or have been sentenced for crimes or who are publicly known to be linked to criminal activities involving illegal enrichment

Legal Persons

- Charities and other “not for profit” organisations, especially those operating on a “cross-border” basis).
- Legal persons with complex ownership structure which makes it difficult to identify the ultimate beneficial owner or controlling interests
- Transactions involving recently created legal persons, when the amount is large compared to their assets.

Box 6: Geographic Red Flags

- Countries identified by UN, FATF and FSRB Statements as having weak AML/CFT regimes
- Cross border elements such as the insurer, the customer and the beneficiary of the contract being in separate jurisdictions
- A request to insure goods or assets in transit to or situated in:-
 - Countries where terrorism
 - the production of drugs
 - drug trafficking or an organised criminal activity may be prevalent

Regulator's Role in STRs

15.12. No STR should be filed with the regulator IPEC. All STRs must be filed directly with the FIU.

15.13. However, IPEC as a competent supervisor is required in terms of Section 30 (4) of the MLPC Act to “.... inform the FIU if, in the course of discharging its responsibilities—

(a) it discovers facts that could be related to money laundering or terrorist financing; or

(b) it appears to the supervisory authority that a financial institution of which it is the supervisory authority, or any of their respective directors, officers or employees, is not complying or has not complied with the obligations set out in this section or the MLPC Act generally.”

Inapplicability of confidentiality provisions and prohibition against tipping-off

15.14. Section 31 (1) of the MLPC Act stipulates that no secrecy or confidentiality provision in any other law shall prevent a financial institution or designated non-financial business or profession from fulfilling its obligations under section 30 or the other provisions of the MLPC Act.

15.15. Subsection (2) of the Act prohibits tipping off, and states that no financial institution nor any director, partner, officer, principal or employee thereof, shall disclose to any of their customers or a third party that a report or any other information concerning suspected money laundering or financing of terrorism will be, is being or has been submitted to the FIU, or that a money laundering or financing of terrorism investigation is being or has been carried out, except in the circumstances set forth in subsection (3) or when otherwise required by law to do so".

15.16. The only exception is subsection (3) whereby, "a disclosure may be made to carry out a function that a person has relating to the enforcement of any provision of the MLPC Act or of any other enactment, or, in the case of a legal practitioner or accountant, when seeking to dissuade a client from engaging in illegal activity".

Protection of identity of persons and information relating to suspicious transaction reports

15.17. Section 32 (1) of the MLPC Act states that except for the purposes of the due administration of the MLPC Act, no person shall disclose any information that will identify or is likely to identify the person who prepared or made a suspicious transaction report, or handled the underlying transaction.

Exemption from Liability for Good Faith Reporting of Suspicious Transactions

15.18. Section 33 of the MLPC Act, stipulates that no criminal, civil, disciplinary or administrative proceedings for breach of banking or professional secrecy or breach of contract shall lie against a financial institution or their respective directors, principals, officers, partners, professionals or employees who, in good faith, submit reports or provide information in accordance with the provisions of the Act.

16. Conclusion

- 16.1. The Funeral Assurance Sector players should always be compliant with all applicable laws and regulations particularly the Minimum Capital Requirements and Prescribed Asset ratios.
- 16.2. In addition, the Sector should also take all compliance issues seriously to avoid regulatory sanctions going forward.
- 16.3. The funeral sector is urged to revisit its business model so that it deals with the compliance issues and increased competition from Life Assurers amongst other things and this may also require Funeral Assurers to realign their balance sheets.
- 16.4. Sector players are also urged to have reinsurance arrangements in place as a Risk Management Tool to manage loss experiences.
- 16.5. The Commission reminds Funeral Assurers that the business of assurance is the business of meeting the promised benefits which include timely payment of claims and providing burial services.
