SECTION B: ECONOMIC OVERVIEW

Economic Overview

Global and Regional Economic Outlook

Global output growth has been revised downwards to 3.2% in 2022 and 2.9% in 2023 (IMF, 2022). The slow growth is mainly attributed to negative spill overs from the war in Ukraine and the associated sanctions that disrupted energy and food markets.

Growth in sub-Saharan Africa is projected at 3.8% in 2022, reflecting the effects of elevated fossil fuel and metal prices for some commodity-exporting countries.

Domestic Economic Outlook

Ministry of Finance and Economic Development revised the 2022 economic growth for Zimbabwe from 5.5% to 4.6%, reflecting the impact of the external global environment and unique domestic circumstances. The 2022 growth projection is premised on improved mining and quarrying (9.5%), accommodation and food services (50%), electricity, gas, steam and air conditioning supply (12.2%), real estate activities (6.1%) among others, as shown in Table 2.

Exchange Rate Developments

The Zimbabwe dollar lost its value from an average of US$1:142.4 as at 31 March 2022 to US$1:ZW$366.3 as at 30 June 2022. The depreciation was mainly driven by higher demand for foreign currency as a store of value, and forward exchange rate pricing due to high inflation expectations. Figure 1 displays the changes in exchange rates.

(US$/ZW$) – End of Period

Inflation Developments

The annual inflation rate increased to 191.6% in June of 2022, from 72.7% recorded at the end of March 2022, driven by behavioural factors such as confidence, adverse future inflation expectations, and arbitrage behaviour and opportunities. The month-on-month inflation stood at 30.7% as at 30 June 2022, up from 6.3% recorded as at 31 March 2022. Figure 2 illustrates the inflation trend from June 2021 to June 2022.

Zimbabwe Stock Exchange Performance

The All-Share index, Top 10 index, and Medium Cap index experienced gains of 25%, 17%, and 58% respectively during the quarter under review. The stock market increased because of quick price changes and the success of businesses with listed stocks. Market capitalization increased by 24% from ZW$1.97 trillion in March 2022 to ZW$2.44 trillion in June 2022.

Table 3 summarises changes in the key stock market indicators.

Victoria Falls Stock Exchange (VFEX) Performance

The VFEX All share index was also bullish during the quarter under analysis gaining by 7.72% to close at 115.39 points. However, total turnover declined by 39.6% from US$5.3 million recorded in the first quarter of 2022 to US$3.2 million. Market capitalisation also declined in the quarter by 7.69% from US$253.7 million to US$273.2 million.

Money Market Developments

Savings Deposit Rates

The annual inflation rate at 191.6% as at 30 June 2022, remained higher than the rates on savings deposits, which were under 20%. This suggests that money market investments continue to yield negative real returns.

Covid-19 Updates

As at 30 June 2022, there were 541.3 million confirmed cases of Covid-19 worldwide, a 13% increase from the 479.3 million cases recorded at the end of March 2022. The total number of deaths caused by the pandemic rose from 6.1 million recorded as at 31 March 2022 to 6.3 million cases as at June 2022 (WHO, 2022).

The total number of Covid-19 cases reported in Zimbabwe rose from 246, 286 as at 31 March 2022 to 255, 586 cases reported as at 29 June 2022. Over the same period, the recovery rate increased from 96% to 97%. The number of deaths related to COVID-19 also increased, from 5,444 to 5,555 cases. A total of 4.6 million individuals were fully vaccinated as at 29 June 2022.

SECTION D: INSURANCE COMPANIES

Performance in terms of business written

Total GPW written by short-term insurers increased by 200% in nominal terms from ZW$9.95 billion reported during the first half year of 2021 to ZW$29.84 billion during the comparative period in 2022. The growth is mainly attributable to insurance premiums tracking inflation developments. Figure 3 below shows the trend in volume of business generated by short-term insurers.

Motor and fire insurance maintained their dominance as the major sources of business contributing combined 63% of the GPW during the first half of 2022 down from 64% for the comparative period in 2021.

Foreign Currency Denominated Business

Gross Premium Written in foreign currency during the half year ended 30 June 2022 was US$66.68 million representing a 21% increase from the US$54.90 million reported during the comparative period in 2021. Foreign currency denominated business contributed 47% of the total business generated by the short-term players during the period under review.

Capitalisation

All nineteen (19) insurers reported capital positions that were compliant with the minimum capital requirement of ZW$37.5 million as at 30 June 2022. The reported capital positions are shown in Table 10.

* Empaya was not part of the registered entities in June 2021.

Meanwhile the Commission is finalising work on the draft Statutory Instrument for USD-indexed Minimum Capital Requirements. Eighteen out of the nineteen short term insurers were compliant with the minimum solvency margin of 25% as stipulated in Section 24(1a) (ii) of the Insurance Act [Chapter 24:07] as shown in Appendix 1C.

Asset Quality

Total assets for short-term insurers increased by 318% from ZW$13.95 billion reported as at 30 June 2021 to ZW$58.25 billion reported as at 30 June 2022. The increase in assets is mainly attributable to an increase in reinsurers' share of outstanding claims and premium debtors that accounted for 36% of the total assets. Reinsurers' share of outstanding claims increased by 2,172% from ZW$0.25 billion reported as at 30 June 2021 to ZW$5.68 billion as at 30 June 2022. The increase in reinsurer's share of outstanding claims is mainly attributable to increase in the risks transferred to reinsurers.

Premium debtors significantly rose from ZW$4.06 billion reported as at 30 June 2021 to ZW$15.07 billion as at 30 June 2022, reflecting a 271% nominal increase. The continued undesirable increase in premium debtors is a sign of weak credit risk management by insurers. The continued increase in premium debtors will result in the failure to settle policyholder claims by the industry.

Whilst industry GPW increased by 200%, premium debtors increased by 271% indicating that premium debtors are increasing faster than GPW thereby reducing the liquidity of the industry. The increase in premium debtors has remained a cause for concern. Industry is encouraged to self-regulate as the Commission is engaging relevant authorities to finalise the No Premium No Cover Policy to regulate the issuance of policies on credit as an intervention to address the challenge of premium debtors.

Investments in prescribed assets increased by 304% from ZW$0.48 billion as at 30 June 2021 to ZW$1.94 billion as at 30 June 2022. Despite the increase in prescribed asset investments, only one of the nineteen short-term insurers was compliant with the minimum prescribed asset ratio of 10% as at 30 June 2022. Compliance with prescribed asset requirements remains significantly low. To ensure compliance, the industry is still expected to come up with projects for conferment of PA status by the Government.

*Other comprise of intangible assets, Money market and related party receivables.

Fixed assets, equities and premium receivables were the three major asset classes accounting for a combined 63% of total assets. Fixed assets alone constituted 22% against a limit of 10% while premium debtors and other assets contributed 26% and 9% respectively against a limit of 5% in violation of Circular 2 of 2013 on investment limits. The issuance of policies on credit will be outlawed once the No Premium No Cover policy is approved and gazetted.

Short-term insurance players are encouraged to structure their investment portfolios in ways that enable not only the preservation of policyholder value but also promote a balanced investment mix in line with the Commission's investment limits and asset/liability profiles.

Reinsurance

The industry's average retention ratio decreased from 53% for the half year ended 30 June 2021 to 43% for the comparative period in 2022. This shows a decrease in the average risk appetite by the direct short-term insurers. Retention ratios for individual insurers ranged from 8% to 100 %.

The average reinsurance share of outstanding claims to gross outstanding claims ratio increased by 78 percentage points from 43% reported as at 30 June 2021 to 121% as at 30 June 2022. (See Appendix 1C for more indicators).

Technical Position

Technical liabilities for the short-term sector increased by 381% from ZW$3.13 billion as at 30 June 2021 to ZW$15.07 billion as at 30 June 2022. The average liquid assets to technical reserves increased from 61% in June 2021 to 82% during the comparative period in 2022. The increase in the average liquid assets to technical reserves indicates an increase in cautiousness by industry players, as more liquid assets were set aside for unexpected claims.

The technical assets for the short-term sector increased by 953% from ZW$0.75 billion as at 30 June 2021 to ZW$7.90 billion as at 30 June 2022. Technical assets were ZW$7.17 billion lower than the technical liabilities. The industry is encouraged to improve on their claims settling pattern to reduce their outstanding liabilities.

Earnings

Total profit after tax by short-term insurers increased by 576% in nominal terms from the ZW$1.36 billion during the first half year of 2021 to ZW$9.19 billion in 2022. Whilst most short-term companies made underwriting losses, the aggregate sector position was profitable on account of investment income.

The combined ratio increased from 101% during the first half year of 2021 to 106% during the comparative period in 2022. The increase in the combined ratio to levels above 100% is undesirable as it indicates underwriting losses by players.

In line with the increase in the combined ratio, the short-term insurers made an underwriting loss of ZW$2.20 billion for the period ending 30 June 2022 as compared to a profit of ZW$0.18 billion recorded during the same period in 2021. The major driver of the increase in underwriting losses are claims. The Commission has also noted an increase in fraudulent claims. Players are encouraged to employ Know Your Customer principles in underwriting to manage claims. Eleven (11) out of the nineteen (19) short-term insurers reported underwriting losses compared to six (6) reported during the first half year of 2021.

The average net commission ratio was 4% for the period under review compared to 17% for the first half year of 2021. The decrease shows that the industry reduced the commissions paid to intermediaries as compared to the previous reporting period. The decrease in average commission rate is in line with the Commission's corrective measures following the Thematic Offsite Inspection on Commissions. The highest net commission paid by a short-term insurer for the period under review was 24% of earned premiums. Players are reminded to observe Circular 2 of 2009 with regards to commissions. (For individual short-term insurers' net commission ratios, kindly refer to Appendix 1C).

The industry's average return on assets (ROA) and return on equity (ROE) were 31% and 85% respectively for the period under review, compared to 20% and 46% respectively for the same period in 2021. The increase in ROA shows that the short-term insurance sector is fairly utilising its investment assets to increase profitability. (For more performance indicators on profitability refer to Appendix 1C under earnings).

Liquidity

Liquid assets in the form of cash and cash equivalents, money market instruments and short-term prescribed assets increased by 263% from ZW$2.11 billion as at 30 June 2021 to ZW$7.66 billion as at 30 June 2022. Eight (8) out of the nineteen operational short-term insurers had negative working capital ratios while the industry's acid test ratio averaged 25%. The low ratio is a cause for concern as short-term insurers face a high liquidity risk leading to low capacity to meet short-term financial obligations. The acid test ratio for individual insurers ranged from 3% to 351% as shown in Appendix 1C.

Market share for short-term insurers

For the half year ended 30 June 2022, the market leaders in terms of GPW were Cell Insurance, Old Mutual Insurance and Nicoz Diamond with a combined market share of 58%.

Other include Allied, Empaya, CBZ, Credit Insurance, ECGC, Evolution, Hamilton, Quality, Safel, Sanctuary and Zimnat.

SECTION E: REINSURANCE COMPANIES

Performance in terms of business written

The total business written by short-term reinsurers increased by 191% in nominal terms from ZW$5.22 billion for the half year ended 30 June 2021 to ZW$15.20 billion for the comparative period in 2022. Figure 10 below shows the trend in volume of business written by short-term reinsurers from 2017 to 2022:

Figure 10: Short-term reinsurers' trend in business written from 2017 to 2022

The significant increase in business written between 2019 and 2022 is attributed to premium reviews in line with inflation developments and exchange rate volatility.

Other comprises of hire purchase, hail, health and casualty.*

In line with developments in the short-term direct business, motor and fire lines of business were the major sources of business for the half year ended 30 June 2021 and 30 June 2022 both contributing 53% of the total GPW during the respective reporting periods. While fire insurance was the major source of business for reinsurers, motor insurance was the major source of business for direct underwriters indicating that direct underwriters retained the major portion of motor insurance risk confirming that third party motor insurance has remained the major source of business in the local market.

Foreign currency denominated business

The total foreign currency denominated business written by short-term reinsurers increased by 27% from US$34.87 million reported during the first half of 2021 to US$52.54 million for the comparative period in 2022. Table 12 shows the GPW by line of business for the half year ended 30 June 2022 and 30 June 2021.

Consistent with 2021 trend in foreign currency denominated business, the major class of business written by short-term reinsurers was fire business contributing a 49% of the GPW for the half year ended 30 June 2022.

Capitalisation

All the registered short-term reinsurers reported capital positions compliant with the minimum capital requirement of ZW$75 million. The reported capital positions for June 2021 and 2022 are shown in Table 13 below.

All the reinsurers were compliant with the minimum solvency margin of 25% as stipulated in Section 24(1a) (ii) of the Insurance Act [Chapter 24:07]. The solvency margins for individual reinsurers ranged from 30.33% to 4,333% as shown in Appendix 2C.

Asset quality

The asset base for short-term reinsurers increased by 272% from ZW$9.51 billion reported as at 30 June 2021 to ZW$35.34 billion as at 30 June 2022. Investments in prescribed assets increased from ZW$1.41 billion to ZW$4.64 billion. However, only four (4) out of the nine (9) reinsurers were compliant with the requisite prescribed asset threshold of 10%.

Premium receivables increased from ZW$1.54 billion to ZW$8.71 billion, indicating an increase of 275%. The increase in premium receivables remains a cause for concern as it indicates ineffectiveness of credit control systems to manage credit risk by players.

Premiums receivables, cash & money market instruments and equities were the major asset classes making up 57% of total assets. Premium debtors and other assets contributed 24% and 14% respectively against a limit of 5% in violation of Circular 2 of 2013 on investment limits.

The contribution of various asset classes to total assets as at 30 June 2022 is shown in figure 13 below:

Technical Position

Total technical liabilities increased from ZW$3.14 billion as at 30 June 2021 to ZW$11.48 billion as at 30 June 2022 indicating an increase of 266%. Gross Outstanding Claims and Unearned Premium Reserves, which amounted to ZW$9.39 billion accounted for 82% of the total technical liabilities.

The technical assets increased from ZW$0.69 billion as at 30 June 2021 to ZW$2.71 billion as at 30 June 2022 indicating an increase of 393%. Technical assets are ZW$8.77 billion lower than the technical liabilities. The industry is encouraged to improve on their claims settling pattern to reduce their outstanding liabilities.

Retrocession

The sector's average retention ratio was 63.78% for the half year ended 30 June 2022 compared to 63.63% during the comparative period in 2021. This reflects a slight increase in risk appetite by the short-term reinsurance companies. The individual reinsurers' reported retention ratios ranged from 9.42% to 93.07% for the period under review. (See Appendix 2C for more ratios).

Earnings

Total profit after tax for short-term reinsurers increased by 303% from ZW$1.11 billion for the period ended 30 June 2021 to ZW$4.47 billion for the comparative reporting period in 2022.

The average net commission ratio was 27.89% for the period under review compared to 39.29% for the half year ended 30 June 2021. This shows that the average commission paid by short-term reinsurers decreased when compared to the same period in 2021. The highest net commission ratio paid by a short-term reinsurer during the period under review was 38.69% of earned premiums, in violation of the limits prescribed by Circular 9 of 2009.

The average combined ratio for the short-term reinsurers increased from 109.21% for the half year ended 30 June 2021 to 136.29% for the period under review. The increase indicates underwriting loss by the sector. The combined ratio and other ratios that relate to profitability for short-term reinsurers is shown in Appendix 2C under earnings.

Liquidity

Liquid assets in the form of cash and money market instruments held by short-term reinsurers increased by 289% from ZW$1.74 billion to ZW$6.77 billion. The average acid test ratio for short-term reinsurers increased from 33.90% to 37.60%. The increase in average acid test ratio indicates a decrease in liquidity risk for short term reinsures. The acid test ratios for short-term reinsurers are shown in Appendix 2C under liquidity.

Market share for reinsurers

As shown in figure 14 below, the market leaders in terms of GPW were Waica Re, Zep Re and ZB Re. Premium receivables significantly decreased by 69% from ZW$3.66 million as at 30 June 2021 to ZW$1.12 million as at 30 June 2022. The decrease in premium debtors is a sign of effective credit risk management by microinsurers. The contribution of various asset classes to total assets as at 30 June 2022 is shown in Figure 17 below:

Fixed assets were the major asset class, constituting 43% of total assets.

SECTION I: COMPLAINTS HANDLING

Complaints handling

During the quarter under review, the Commission received 30 short term insurance complaints, and of these complaints 29 were resolved while 1 is still outstanding. The major source of complaints is delay in settlement by insurance companies, constituting 40 percent of the complaints, while unsatisfactory service constituted the remaining 27 percent of total complaints. Repudiation of claims and Low RTA claim payments constituted 23 percent and 10 percent respectively

Table 20: Breakdown of complaints by nature

Nature of complaint	Number of complaints	Percentage of total
Delay in settlement	12	40%
Repudiation	7	23%
Low RTA claim payments	3	10%
Not satisfied with service	8	27%
Total	30	100%

Delay in settlement of claims continues to be the major source of complaints, and insurance companies are urged to expedite settlement of claims and to be sensitive to the plight of policyholders, especially with the sustained erosion of claims value due to inflation. Insurers should also treat customers fairly and provide the level of service agreed to avoid complaints against them, as a result of non-satisfactory service.

SECTION J: AML/CFT/CPF

ANTI-MONEY LAUNDERING AND COMBATING FINANCING OF TERRORISM AND PROLIFERATION FINANCING (AML/CFT/CPF) AWARENESS

Suspicious Transaction Reports

Following the removal of Zimbabwe from enhanced monitoring by the Financial Action Taskforce (FATF) International Co-operation Review Group, dubbed the 'Grey List' in March 2022, the country is now focusing more on improving effectiveness of AML/CFT/CPF measures.

One of the deficient areas identified in the 2nd Round Eastern and Southern Africa Anti-Money Laundering Group (ESAAMLG) Mutual Evaluation Report for Zimbabwe of 2016 was low level of suspicious transactions reports (STRs) and activities filed with the Financial Intelligence Unit (FIU) by non-bank financial institutions including the insurance sector. The main reasons cited for the low reporting were:

- Majority of entities lack awareness on the implementation of control measures; and
- A lack of understanding of the protection offered under the Money Laundering and Proceed of Crime Act [Chapter 9:24] in relation to reporting suspicious transactions.

The 2016 Mutual Evaluation Report revealed that the insurance sector filed one (1) report in 2013 and four (4) reports in 2014. From January 2016 to April 2022, the FIU reported that only three (3) STRs had been reported by the sector. It is, therefore, important to note that filing of STRs is a requirement in terms of the following Financial Action Task Force (FATF) Recommendations listed below:

Recommendation 20: All suspicious transactions, including attempted transactions, should be reported regardless of the amount of the transaction.

Recommendation 21: Financial institutions (FIs), their directors, officers and employees should be protected by law if they report their suspicions to the FIU. FIs should be prohibited by law from disclosing ("tipping-off") the fact that a suspicious transaction report (STR) or related information is being filed with the FIU.

Accordingly, requirements of Recommendations 20 and 21 of the FATF Recommendations were domesticated in the Money Laundering and Proceeds of Crime Act [Chapter 9:24], under section 30.

Therefore, filing of Suspicious Transactions is a legal requirement, which is part of transaction monitoring. The main goal of transaction monitoring is to ensure that proceeds of crime should be prevented from entering the financial and other sectors or are detected and reported by these sectors.

What Constitutes a Suspicious Transaction Report (STR)

STRs must involve proceeds of crime or linked to or is to be used for terrorism acts or by terrorist organisations. Regulated entities must report any transactions including attempted transactions which could constitute proceeds of crime or be linked to terrorism or its financing.

A suspicious transactions report must be submitted directly to the FIU if there is reasonable ground to suspect that a financial transaction occurred or the attempted commission of an ML/TF/PF offence.

On 23 March 2022, the Commission issued Circular 16 of 2022 requesting regulated entities to register on GoAML a platform that facilitates communication with FIU and easy filing of STRs among other reporting obligations. All reporting entities must register on GoAML.

Typical Red Flags in the Insurance Sector

Entities should also be aware of elements of individual transactions and situations that might give rise to suspicion of money laundering and terrorist financing also known as red flags.

Boxes 1 to 5 highlights typical examples of red flags relevant in the short term insurance sector. The lists are not exhaustive.

Box 1: Short-term Transactional Red Flags

1. Dirty money being used to capitalise a start-up insurance company
2. The receipt of premiums from offshore and/or lightly or unregulated financial intermediaries.
3. Premium paid from a foreign account in a different jurisdiction to the domicile or residence of the policyholder.
4. Premium is paid by an unrelated third party
5. Early redemption of a policy when the surrender value is less than the value of premiums paid
6. Request for a purchase of a significantly large single premium policy for a large sum assured.
7. Change in beneficiaries to include non-family members

Box 2: Intermediaries – Agents and Brokers

1. Changes in employee or agent performance e.g., selling policy for cash, remarkable or unexpected increase sales volume
2. Excessive commission paid to an intermediary.
3. Premium financing arrangements between policyholders and intermediaries, which may obscure source of funds or large, unusual cash payments.

Box 3 Reinsurers

1. International business involving forex due to cross border nature
2. ML/TF through establishing fictitious reinsurance companies or intermediaries, fronting arrangements or misuse of normal reinsurance transactions.
3. The deliberate placement via the insurer of the proceeds of crime or terrorist funds with reinsurers in order to disguise the source of funds

Box 4: Customer Red Flags

Natural Persons

1. Transactions involving persons residing in tax havens
2. Transactions carried out on behalf of minors, incapacitated persons or other persons who may lack the economic capacity to make such purchases
3. Transactions involving persons who are being tried or have been sentenced for crimes or who are publicly known to be linked to criminal activities involving illegal enrichment

Legal Persons

- Charities and other “not for profit” organisations, especially those operating on a “cross-border” basis).
- Legal persons with complex ownership structure which makes it difficult to identify the ultimate beneficial owner or controlling interests
- Transactions involving recently created legal persons, when the amount is large compared to their assets.

Box 5: Geographic Red Flags

1. Countries identified by UN, FATF and FSRB Statements as having weak AML/CFT regimes
2. Cross border elements such as the insurer, the customer and the beneficiary of the contract being in separate jurisdictions
3. A request to insure goods or assets in transit to or situated in:-
 - Countries where terrorism
 - the production of drugs
 - drug trafficking or an organised criminal activity may be prevalent

Regulator's Role in STRs

1. No STR should be filed with the regulator IPEC. All STRs must be filed directly with the FIU.
2. However, IPEC as a competent supervisor is required in terms of Section 30 (4) of the MLPC Act to “.... inform the FIU if, in the course of discharging its responsibilities—
 - a. it discovers facts that could be related to money laundering or terrorist financing; or
 - b. it appears to the supervisory authority that a financial institution of which it is the supervisory authority, or any of their respective directors, officers or employees, is not complying or has not complied with the obligations set out in this section or the MLPC Act generally.”

Inapplicability of confidentiality provisions and prohibition against tipping-off

Section 31(1) of the MLPC Act stipulates that no secrecy or confidentiality provision in any other law shall prevent a financial institution or designated non-financial business or profession from fulfilling its obligations under section 30 or the other provisions of the MLPC Act.

Subsection (2) of the Act prohibits tipping off, and states that no financial institution nor any director, partner, officer, principal or employee thereof, shall disclose to any of their customers or a third party that a report or any other information concerning suspected money laundering or financing of terrorism will be, is being or has been submitted to the FIU, or that a money laundering or financing of terrorism investigation is being or has been carried out, except in the circumstances set forth in subsection (3) or when otherwise required by law to do so”.

1. The only exception is subsection (3) whereby, “a disclosure may be made to carry out a function that a person has relating to the enforcement of any provision of the MLPC Act or of any other enactment, or, in the case of a legal practitioner or accountant, when seeking to dissuade a client from engaging in illegal activity”.

Protection of identity of persons and information relating to suspicious transaction reports

1. Section 32 (1) of the MLPC Act states that except for the purposes of the due administration of the MLPC Act, no person shall disclose any information that will identify or is likely to identify the person who prepared or made a suspicious transaction report or handled the underlying transaction.

Exemption from Liability for Good Faith Reporting of Suspicious Transactions

1. Section 33 of the MLPC Act, stipulates that no criminal, civil, disciplinary or administrative proceedings for breach of banking or professional secrecy or breach of contract shall lie against a financial institution or their respective directors, principals, officers, partners, professionals or employees who, in good faith, submit reports or provide information in accordance with the provisions of the Act.
