SECTION B: ECONOMIC OVERVIEW

2. Economic Overview

2.1 Global and Regional Economic Outlook - Inflation Peaking Amid Low Growth

- 2.1.1 It is anticipated that global growth will decline from an estimated 3.4 percent in 2022 to 2.9 percent in 2023 before increasing to 3.1 percent in 2024. The prediction for 2023 is 0.2 percentage points higher than that of the World Economic Outlook (WEO) for October 2022, but it is still below the historical average (2000–19) of 3.8 percent. The increase in central bank interest rates to combat inflation and Russia's war in Ukraine continue to have a negative impact on the economy. Growth was slowed in 2022 by the quick spread of COVID-19 in China, but the recent reopening has made it possible for a quicker-than-anticipated comeback. Still higher than pre-pandemic (2017–19) levels, global inflation is predicted to decline from 8.8% in 2022 to 6.6 percent in 2023 and 4.3 percent in 2024.
- 2.1.2 The balance of risks is still heavily skewed to the downside, but since the October 2022 WEO, negative risks have abated. On the other side, it's possible that pent-up demand in certain economies will provide a larger boost or that inflation could decline more quickly. On the other side, China's poor health outcomes could stall the recovery, Russia's conflict in Ukraine could worsen, and tighter global financial conditions could make debt distress even worse. Additionally, financial markets may abruptly reprioritize in response to unfavourable inflation news, and greater geopolitical disintegration may impede economic growth.
- 2.1.3 In most economies, maintaining prolonged deflation is still a top objective despite the crisis in the cost of living. The use of macroprudential instruments and the reinforcement of debt restructuring frameworks are required since tighter monetary conditions and slower development could impair the stability of the financial system and the ability to service debt. Accelerating COVID-19 immunizations in China would protect the recovery and have beneficial transnational effects. Broad-based fiscal relief measures should be discontinued, and financial assistance should be properly targeted at those who are most impacted by the higher prices of food and energy. To safeguard the benefits of the rules-based global system and to reduce greenhouse gas emissions and increase green investment, stronger multilateral cooperation is required.

2.2 Domestic Economic Outlook

Domestic GDP growth is projected to slowdown from 4% in 2022 to 3.8% in 2023, sustained primarily by mining, agriculture, and enhanced activity in the manufacturing, wholesale, and retail trade sectors. As a result of the growing dominance of the USD in the economy, authorities resolved to measure inflation using a weighted average of goods and services priced in local currency and USD. The local currency continued to depreciate against the US dollar.

Source: RBZ

2.3 Inflation Developments

Weighted annual inflation decreased from 101.5% in January of this year to 87.6% at the end of the first quarter for both US dollars and ZW dollars. From 0.7% in January to -1.6% in February and 0.1% in March, monthly inflation has slowed. The local currency has declined 58% versus the dollar during the first quarter in the alternative market, despite a reduction in official inflation rates. At the conclusion of the quarter, the alternative market premium had additionally increased to 61%. In 2023, there are significant negative risks associated with both the outcome of inflation and economic development due to the devaluation of the local currency and the expansion of the alternative market premium. The inflation trend from March 2022 to March 2023 is shown in Figure 2 below:

2.4 Zimbabwe Stock Exchange Performance

The Zimbabwe Stock Exchange reported better results compared to the prior three months. The Zimbabwe Stock Exchange All Share Index (also known as the "ZSE ALSI") increased 98% year-to-date to 38,568.48 points at the end of March. The Top 10 Index increased 87% thus far this year, ending March at 12,311.13 points. According to Figure 3 below, market capitalization increased 66% during the quarter, rising from ZW$2.04 trillion to ZW$3.38 trillion.

Despite the stock exchange's recovery, leading counters have been delisting more frequently from the local market in favour of the fast-growing Victoria Falls Exchange, which is denominated in US dollars and continues to draw major corporations. However, quality stock transfers from the ZSE to the VFEX rather than new listings could be harmful to the viability of the local currency-denominated exchange.

2.5 Victoria Falls Stock Exchange (VFEX) Performance

As issuers pursue broader funding sources, tax breaks, and brand positioning, the Victoria Falls Exchange keeps gaining traction. To date this year, the market capitalization has increased by 75% to US$992.88 million. As we move into the upcoming quarter, we anticipate seeing more businesses switch to the VFEX from the ZSE since it provides investors with value protection. There is currently a consistent flow of new postings to the VFEX. African Sun and First Capital Bank have now been added to the list of businesses that will migrate to VFEX. Since all listings on the VFEX to this point have been migrations from the ZSE, West Properties Company was slated to become the exchange's first Initial Public Offering (IPO) in Q2. Challenges with liquidity continue to be a significant disadvantage, severely limiting investor engagement.

SECTION D: DIRECT INSURANCE COMPANIES

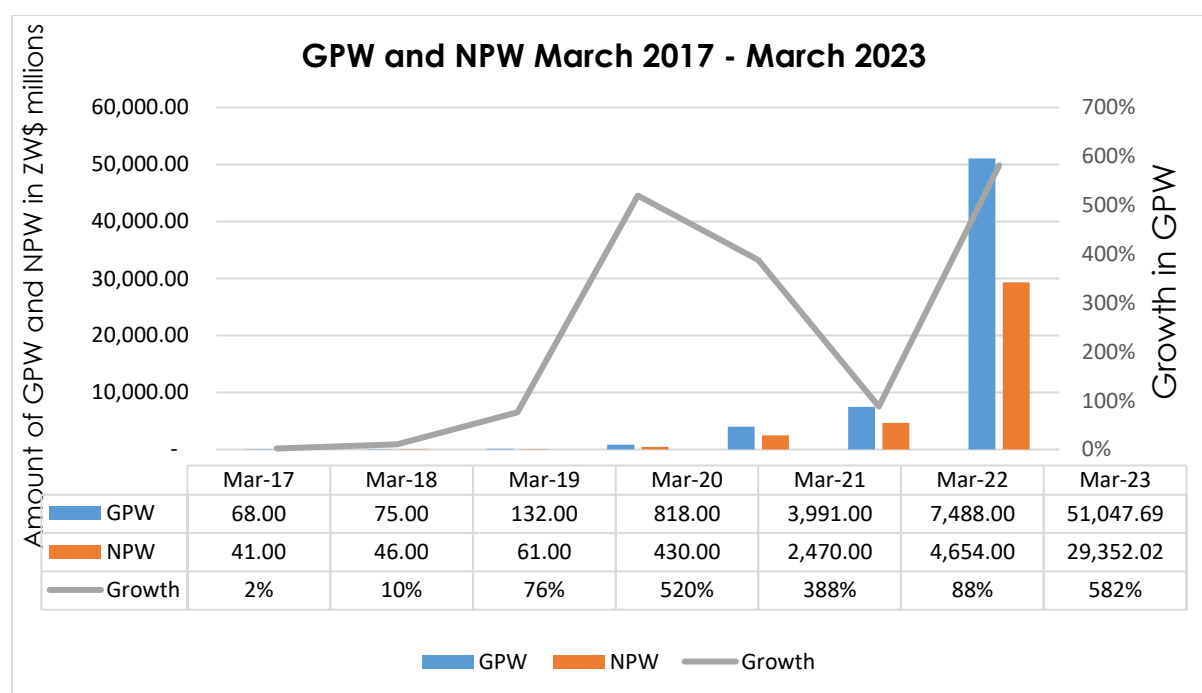

4. Insurance Companies

4.1 Performance in terms of Business Written

4.1.1 Total combined GPW by short-term insurers increased by 582% in nominal terms from ZW$7.49 billion reported for the quarter ended 31 March 2022 to ZW$51.05 billion during the comparative period in 2023.

4.1.2 Figure 4 below shows the trend in the volume of the combined business generated by short-term insurers from March 2017 to March 2023.

Figure 4: Short-Term Insurers' Growth Trend in Combined Business Written (March 2017 – March 2023)

4.1.3 The significant increase in the combined business written between March 2017 and 2023 is attributed to premium reviews as insurers sought to align with inflation developments and exchange rate volatility.

4.1.6 Motor and fire insurance maintained their dominance as the major sources of business contributing a total of 71% of the Combined GPW during the quarter ending March 2023, an increase from 69% recorded during the comparative period in 2022.

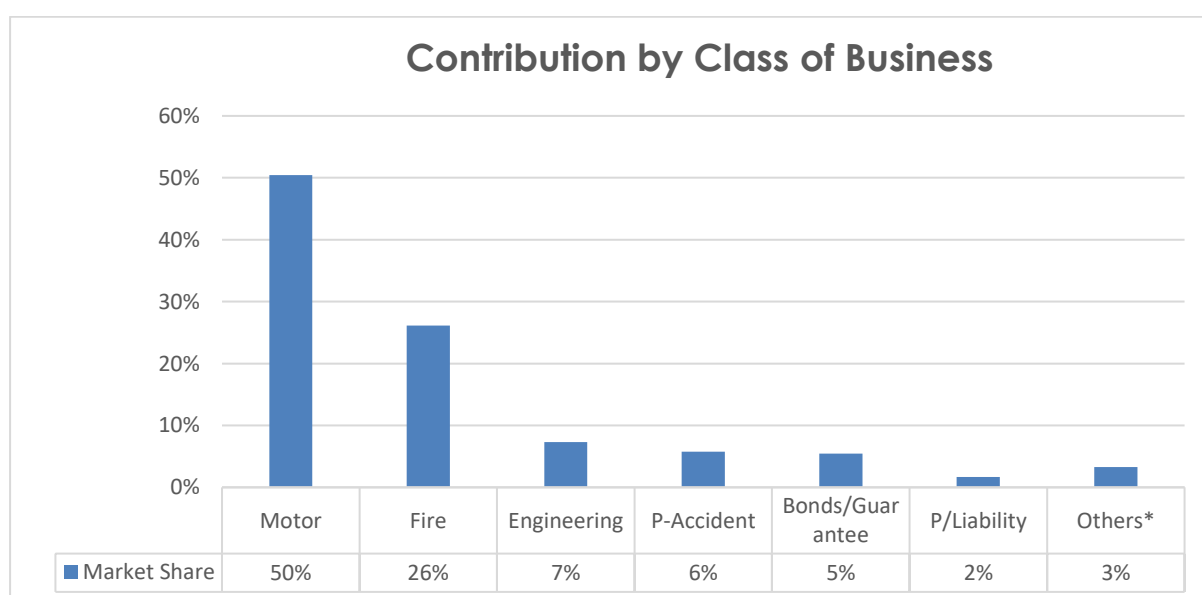

4.1.7 Notwithstanding the continued dominance of motor insurance business as a mandatory class of insurance business, it is imperative for coordinated efforts by all stakeholders to address legacy issues militating against confidence in the insurance industry. This includes raising awareness of the importance of insurance as a risk management tool as opposed to being a cost-driver to business operations.

4.2 Absolute ZW$ Business

4.2.1 The absolute ZW$ gross premium written by short-term insurers for the quarter ended 31 March 2023 amounted to ZW$18.01 billion. This accounted for 35% of the total business written while the remaining 65% was written in foreign currency.

4.3 Foreign-Currency-Denominated Business

4.3.1 Gross Premium Written in foreign currency for the three (3) months ended 31 March 2023 increased by 52% from US$24.49 million reported in the comparative period in 2022 to US$37.32 million, contributing 65% of the total business written by short-term underwriters.

4.3.3 As shown in Table 6 above and in line with trends in the absolute Zimbabwean dollar-denominated business, the major sources of foreign-currency denominated business for short-term insurers were motor and fire, contributing a combined 65% of the total business written for the period ending March 2023.

4.4 Capitalisation

4.4.1 All the twenty (20) short-term insurers reported capital positions above the minimum capital requirement of ZW$37.5 million as at 31 March 2023. The reported capital positions were computed without accounting for non-admissible assets as stipulated in Statutory Instrument 95 of 2017. The reported capital positions are shown in Table 7 below.

Key

Above minimum capital requirement of ZW$37.5 million
Below minimum capital requirement of ZW$37.5 million

- 4.4.2 All players are reminded to adequately prepare for the implementation of the risk-based capital regime under the auspices of the Zimbabwe Integrating Risk and Capital Programme. The draft regulations for the risk-based capital regimes are undergoing the necessary approvals.
- 4.4.3 One (1) out of the twenty (20) short-term insurers was not compliant with the minimum solvency margin of 25% as stipulated in Section 24(1a) (ii) of the Insurance Act [Chapter 24:07] as shown in Appendix 1C.

4.5 Asset Quality

- 4.5.1 Total assets for short-term insurers increased by 483% from ZW$28.62 billion reported as at 31 March 2022 to ZW$166.89 billion reported as at 31 March 2023. Investment property constituted the largest portion of total assets at 21%. Premium debtors increased by 437% to ZW$ 29.48 billion from ZW$5.49 billion.
- 4.5.2 The continued undesirable increase in premium debtors remains a credit risk management concern that requires urgent attention by insurers. Industry players are encouraged to operationalise the No Premium No Cover self-regulation as a stop-gap measure as the Commission continues to engage relevant authorities for the approval and gazetting of the No Premium No Cover Policy regulations to address the challenge of high and unsustainable premium debtors.
- 4.5.3 Investments in prescribed assets increased by 1,349.5% from ZW$0.53 billion as at 31 March 2022 to ZW$7.70 billion as at 31 March 2023. Despite the increase in prescribed asset investments, only four (4) of the twenty (20) short-term insurers were compliant with the minimum prescribed asset ratio of 10%.
- 4.5.4 Compliance with prescribed asset requirements remains very low. To ensure compliance with prescribed asset requirements, the Commission will be escalating regulatory measures in line with Statutory Instrument 206 of 2019.

Other include intangible assets, long term fixed deposits, other receivables*

4.5.6 Investment property and premium debtors were the two major asset classes accounting for 39% of total assets. Investment property alone constituted 21% against a limit of 10% while premium debtors and other assets contributed 18% and 12% respectively against limits of 5%, hence were in violation of Circular 2 of 2013.

4.5.7 Short-term insurance players are encouraged to structure their investment portfolios in ways that enable not only the preservation of policyholder value but also promote a balanced investment mix in line with the Commission's investment limits and asset/liability profiles.

4.6 Reinsurance

- 4.6.1 The industry's average retention ratio decreased from 62.15% to 57.50%, indicative of a decrease in the average risk appetite by the direct short-term insurers.
- 4.6.2 Retention ratios for individual insurers during the period under review ranged from 2.66% to 99.84%. The dearth of innovation has seen mandatory motor insurance dominating the short-term insurance business. This has resulted in insurers writing predominantly motor insurance retaining 100% of their book given the statutory limits in Third Party motor insurance liabilities.

4.7 Technical Position

- 4.7.1 Technical liabilities for the short-term insurers increased by 523% from ZW$6.59 billion to ZW$41.04 billion. The average liquid assets to technical reserves for the period under review increased from 63% in March 2022 to 101% during the comparative period in 2023. The increase in the average ratio demonstrates a more cautious approach in setting aside liquid assets for unexpected claims.
- 4.7.2 The technical assets for the short-term insurance sector increased by 845% from ZW$1.99 billion as at 31 March 2022 to ZW$18.81 billion as at 31 March 2023. Technical assets were ZW$22.23 billion lower than the technical liabilities. The low technical assets to technical liabilities may be attributed to Third Party Insurance being the major source of business for short-term insurers. Ordinarily, insurers do not make any reinsurance arrangements for third-party motor insurance because of the low statutory limits on claims. The highest proportion of technical liabilities was accounted for by the gross outstanding claims. The industry is encouraged to improve claims settlement patterns to reduce outstanding liabilities.

4.8 Earnings

- 4.8.1 Short-term insurers reported total profit after tax of ZW$11.53 billion for the three (3) months ended 31 March 2023, indicating a nominal increase of 290% from the ZW$2.96 billion reported during the comparative period in 2022.
- 4.8.2 The combined ratio for short-term insurers improved significantly to 88% as at 31 March 2023 from 105% reported during the period ended 31 March 2022.
- 4.8.3 The short-term insurers made an underwriting profit of ZW$376.27 million compared to an underwriting loss of ZW$674.36 million during the comparative period in 2022. Whilst short-term insurers generated underwriting profits, rising operational and claims-related costs are a cause for concern.
- 4.8.4 Eight (8) out of twenty (20) short-term insurers reported underwriting losses during the reporting period in 2023.
- 4.8.5 The average net commission ratio was 1.8% during the period under review compared to 11.98% during the comparative period in 2022. The decrease bears testimony to the Commission's corrective measures for the industry to pay commission rates in line with the Commission rates as outlined in Circular 2 of 2009. Insurers are reminded to observe the dictates of the Circular on commission rates. The highest net commission paid by a short-term insurer during the period under review was 41% of earned premiums compared to 38% during the same period in 2022. (For more performance indicators for short-term insurers', please refer to Appendix 1C).
- 4.8.6 The industry's average return on assets (ROA) and return on equity (ROE) were 14% and 28% respectively for the period under review, compared to 21% and 40% respectively for the quarter ended 31 March 2022. The decrease in ROA shows that the industry is not fairly utilising its investment assets to increase profitability. (For more performance indicators on profitability refer to Appendix 1C under earnings).

4.9 Liquidity

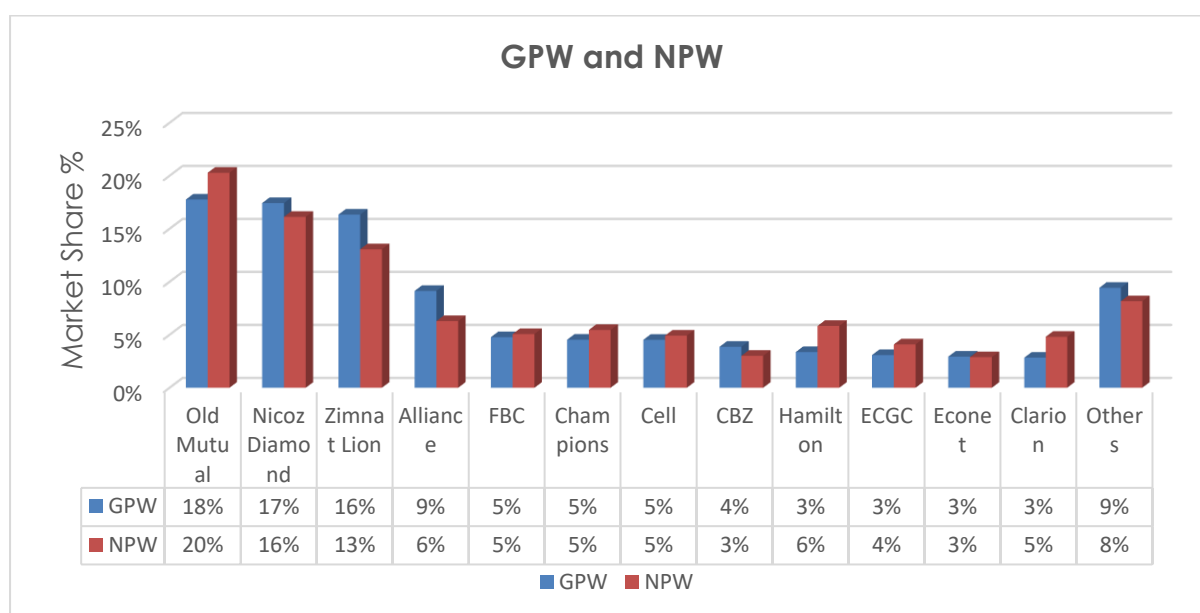

4.9.1 Liquid assets in the form of cash and money market instruments increased by 633% from ZW$2.63 billion as at 31 March 2022 to ZW$19.27 billion as at 31 March 2023. Eight (8) out of the twenty (20) short-term insurers reported negative working capital ratios while the industry's acid test ratio averaged 37.4% as at 31 March 2023.

4.9.2 The low ratio is a cause for concern as short-term insurers face a high liquidity risk arising from low capacity to meet short-term financial obligations. The acid test ratio for insurers as at 31 March 2023 ranged from 3% to 506% as shown in Appendix 1C.

4.10 Market share

4.10.1 The market leaders in terms of the Combined GPW were Old Mutual, Nicoz Diamond, Zimnat Lion, Alliance, FBC Insurance, Champions, and Cell Insurance with a combined market share of 74%. The market leaders in terms of NPW were Old Mutual, Nicoz Diamond and Zimnat Lion Insurance with a combined market share of 49%. SECTION E: REINSURANCE COMPANIES

5. Reinsurance Companies

5.1 Performance in Terms of Business Written.

5.1.1 The combined business written by short-term reinsurers increased by 724% from ZW$4.19 billion for the quarter ended 31 March 2022 to ZW$34.49 billion for the comparative period in 2023 in nominal terms. Figure 11 below shows the trend in the volume of combined business written by short-term reinsurers from 2017 to 2022:

Figure 11: Short-Term Reinsurers' Growth Trend in Combined Business Written: March 2017 – March 2023.

5.1.2 This growth is mainly attributable to insurance premiums tracking inflation developments. Table 8 below shows the percentage growth in GPW for different business lines:

Table 8: Short-Term Reinsurers' Combined GPW by Line of Business

Total	18,385	34,491	4,186	724%	339%

Others* comprise hire purchase, terrorism, PVT, health, directors' liability, casualty, and hail.

5.1.3 As shown in figure 8 above, the real increase in Combined GPW between March 2022 and March 2023 was 339%. In terms of real growth, all classes of business had positive growth rates.

5.1.4 Figure 12 below shows the contribution to Combined GPW by line of business for short-term reinsurers.

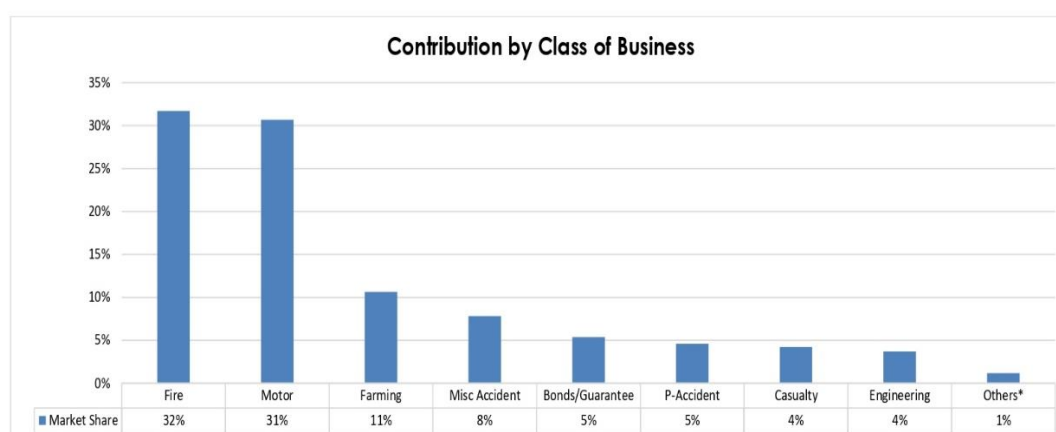

Figure 12: The Contribution to Combined GPW by Line of Business for Short-Term Reinsurers

Others* comprise hire purchase, terrorism, PVT, health, directors' liability, and hail.

- 5.1.5 In line with developments in the short-term direct business, fire, personal accident and motor lines of business were the major sources of business for both the periods ending March 2023 and March 2022. The three (3) lines of business contributed a total 65% of the combined GPW for the quarter ended March 2023, up from 59% during the same period in 2022. While fire insurance was the major source of business for reinsurers, motor insurance was the major source of business for direct underwriters indicating that direct underwriters retained the major portion of motor insurance risk, hence confirming that third-party motor insurance has remained the major source of business in the local market.
- 5.1.6 The gross premium written in absolute ZW$ by short-term reinsurers amounted to ZW$2.83 billion. This translated to 8% of the total business written in the quarter while the remaining 92% was written in foreign currency.
- 5.1.7 The composition of foreign currency denominated business and absolute ZW$ denominated business for short reinsurers suggest that direct short-term underwriters ceded more foreign currency denominated business than ZW$ denominated business.
- 5.1.8 Figure 13 below shows the breakdown of absolute ZW$ business by line of business for the first quarter of 2023.

5.2 Foreign-Currency Denominated Business

5.2.1 The total foreign currency denominated business written by short-term reinsurers increased by 51% from US$25.47 million reported during the quarter ending March 2022 to US$38.55 million during the comparative period in 2023.

5.2.2 Table 9 shows the GPW by line of business for the quarter ended March 2023 and March 2022:

5.2.3 As shown in Table 9 above, aviation, bonds/guarantee, health, and hire purchase lines of business had negative growth. Consistent with the March 2022 trend in foreign-currency denominated business, the major classes of business written by short-term reinsurers were fire, personal accident, farming, and motor insurance business contributing a combined 75% of the gross premium written during the quarter ended 31 March 2023.

	Above minimum capital requirement of ZW$75 million
	Below minimum capital requirement of ZW$75 million

5.3.2 Reinsurers are urged to adequately prepare for the implementation of the risk-based capital regime, the Zimbabwe Integrating Capital & Risk Programme (ZICARP). Meanwhile, the Commission is awaiting gazetting of the regulations for USD-indexed Minimum Capital Requirements.

5.3.3 All the reinsurers were compliant with the minimum solvency margin of 25% as stipulated in Section 24(1a) (ii) of the Insurance Act [Chapter 24:07]. The solvency margin for individual reinsurers as at 31 March 2023 ranged from 53% to 375% as shown in Appendix 2C.

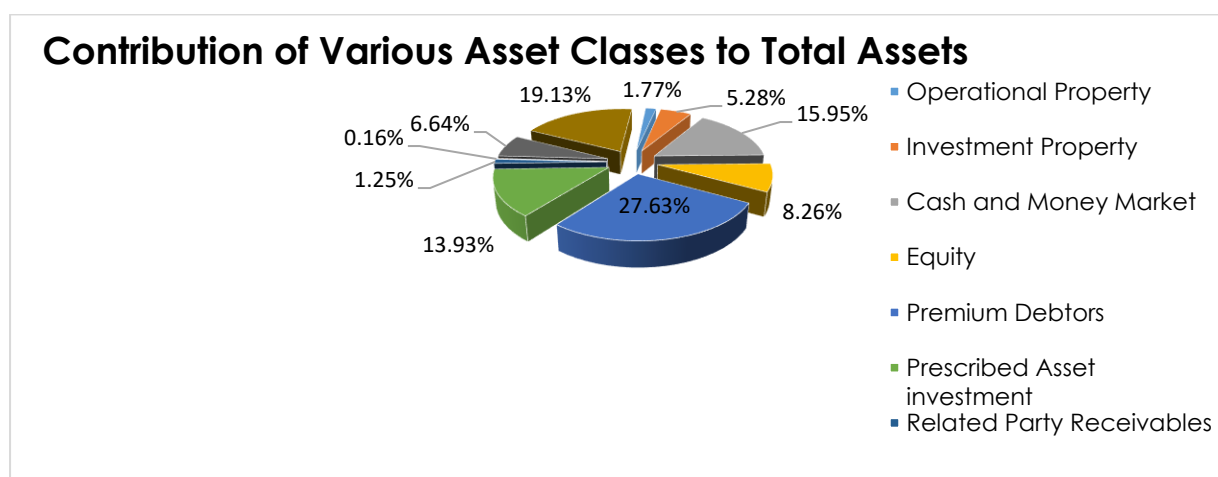

5.4 Asset Quality

5.4.1 The asset base for short-term reinsurers increased by 506% from ZW$17.66 billion reported as at 31 March 2022 to ZW$107.03 billion as at 31 March 2023. Investments in prescribed assets increased from ZW$2.11 billion to ZW$14.90 billion. However, only three (3) out of the ten (10) reinsurers were compliant with the minimum prescribed asset threshold of 10%.

5.4.2 Premium receivables increased by 750% from ZW$3.48 billion as at 31 March 2022 to ZW$29.57 billion as at 31 March 2023. The increase in premium receivables indicates ineffective credit control systems and may compromise the settlement of policyholder claims.

5.4.3 The contribution of various asset classes to total assets as at 31 March 2023 is shown in Figure 14 below:

*Other includes fixed deposits, intangible assets, unit trusts, mortgages and loans, and other receivables

5.4.4 Premium receivables and cash and money market instruments were the major asset classes, contributing 28% and 16% of total assets respectively.

5.5 Technical Position

5.5.1 Total technical liabilities increased from ZW$4.76 billion as at 31 March 2022 to ZW$34.26 billion as at 31 March 2023, indicating an increase of 620%. Unearned premium reserves, which amounted to ZW$14.82 billion accounted for 43% of the total technical liabilities.

5.5.2 The technical assets increased from ZW$1.30 billion as at 31 March 2022 to ZW$7.10 billion as at 31 March 2023, an increase of 446%. Technical assets were ZW$27.15 billion lower than the technical liabilities. The highest proportion of the reinsurers' technical assets comprised the deferred acquisition costs.

5.5.3 The industry is encouraged to improve on the claims settlement pattern to reduce outstanding liabilities.

5.6 Retrocession

5.6.1 Reinsurers' average retention ratio was 60% for the quarter ended 31 March 2023 compared to 71% during the comparative period in 2022. This reflects a slight decrease in risk appetite by the short-term reinsurance companies.

5.6.2 Reinsurers reported retention ratios ranging from 27% to 92% for the period under review. (See Appendix 2C for more ratios).

5.7 Earnings

5.7.1 Total profit after tax for short-term reinsurers increased by 399% from ZW$1.59 billion to ZW$7.93 billion during the period under review.

5.7.2 The average net commission ratio was 25% for the period under review compared to 27% for the quarter 31 March 2022. This shows that the average commission paid by short-term reinsurers slightly decreased when compared to the same period in 2022. The highest net commission ratio paid by a short-term reinsurer was 29% of earned premiums, in violation of the limits prescribed by Circular 2 of 2009.

- 5.7.3 The average combined ratio for the short-term reinsurers improved from 96% for the quarter ended 31 March 2022 to 89% for the period under review. The decrease indicates an increase in underwriting profit. The combined ratio and other ratios that relate to profitability for short-term reinsurers are shown in Appendix 2C under earnings.
- 5.7.4 The industry's average return on assets (ROA) and return on equity (ROE) were 15% and 35% for the period under review, compared to 18% and 355% respectively for the first three (3) months of 2022. The decrease in ROA shows that the short-term reinsurance sector is not efficiently investing its assets to increase profitability. (For more performance indicators on profitability refer to Appendix 2C under earnings).

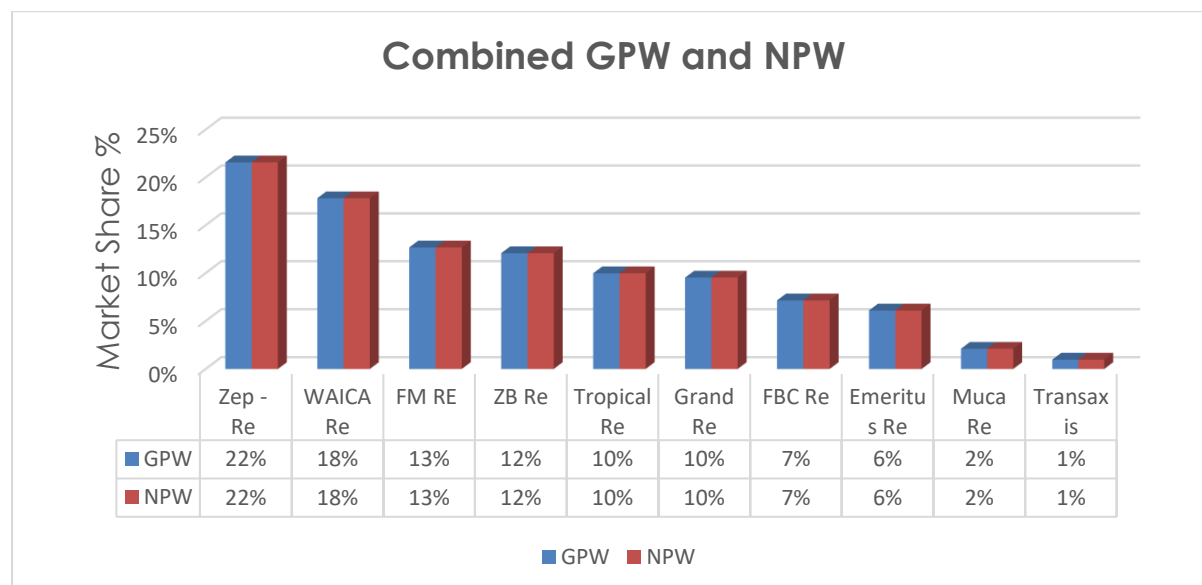

5.8 Liquidity

- 5.8.1 Liquid assets in the form of cash and money market instruments held by short-term reinsurers increased by 402% from ZW$3.40 billion as at 31 March 2022 to ZW$14.07 billion as at 31 March 2023. Only one (1) short-term reinsurer had a negative working capital ratio and is encouraged to invest in liquid assets to ensure the timely settlement of claims.
- 5.8.2 The average acid test ratio for short-term reinsurers decreased from 71% as at 31 March 2022 to 54% as at 31 March 2023. The decrease in average acid test ratio indicates an increase in liquidity risk for short-term reinsurers. The acid test ratios for short-term reinsurers are shown in Appendix 2 C under liquidity.

5.9 Market Share for Reinsurers

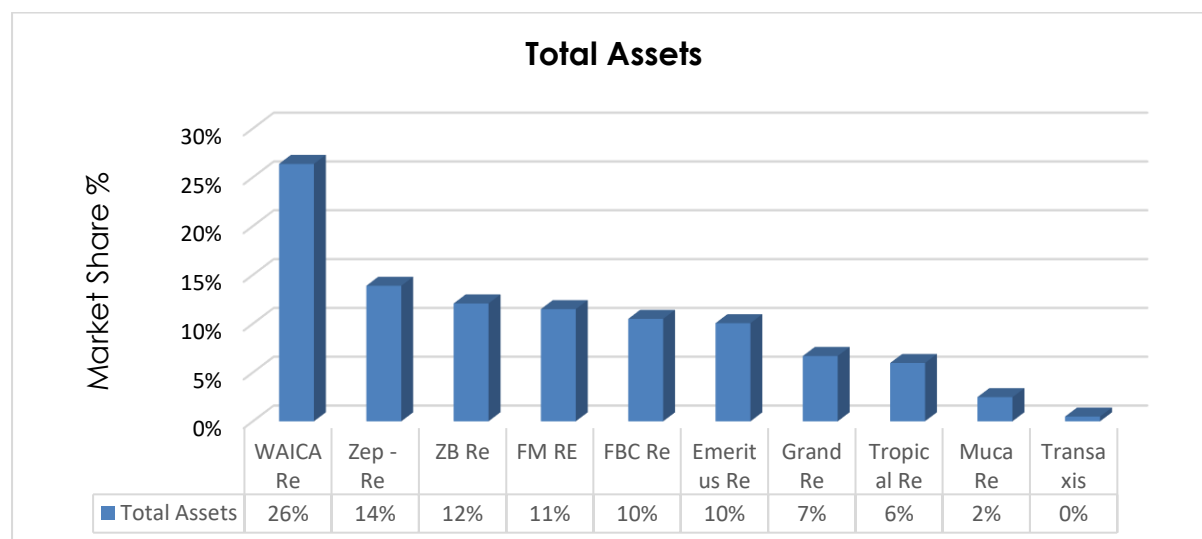

- 5.9.1 As shown in Figure 15 below, the market leaders in terms of Combined GPW were Zep Re, WAICA Re, FM Re, and ZB Re. SECTION I: COMPLAINTS HANDLING

9. Complaints Handling

9.1 Short-term insurance

9.1.1 For the quarter under review, the Commission received 28 complaints against short-term insurance companies. Delay in settlement of claims by short-term insurers was the major source of complaints, constituting 50% of the complaints, while unsatisfactory service and repudiations constituted 11% and 39%, respectively.

Table 18: Breakdown of complaints by nature

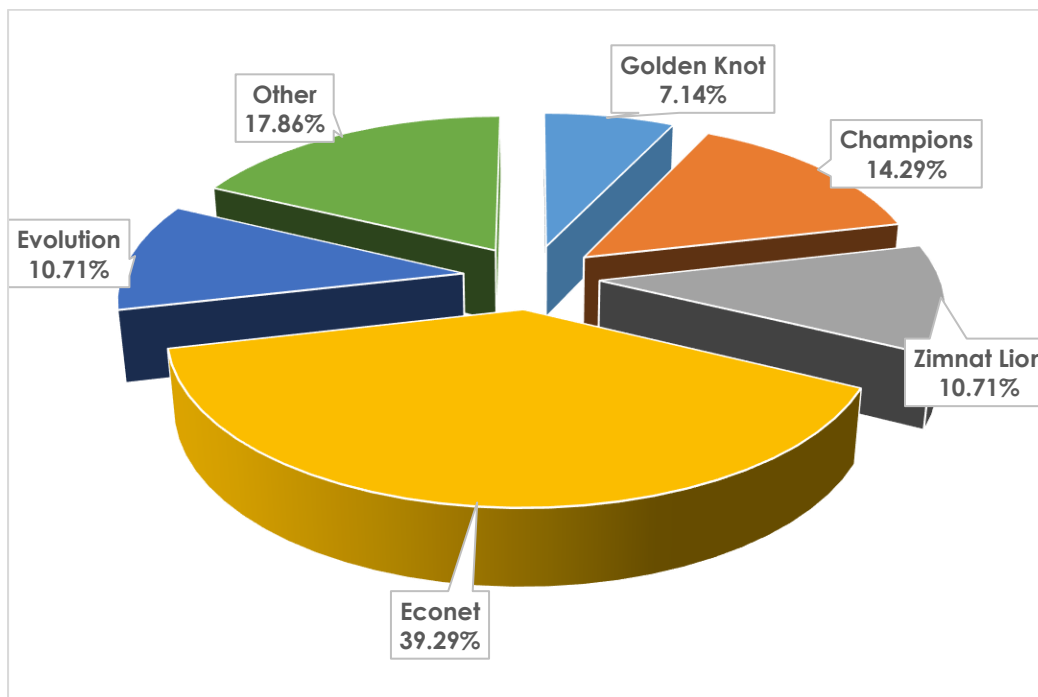

Nature of complaint	Number of complaints	Percentage of total
Delay in settlement	14	50%
Repudiation	11	39%
Not satisfied with service	3	11%
Total	28	100%

9.1.2 The Commission continues to underscore the need for insurers to settle claims within agreed timeframes to protect claimants from loss of value. Treating customers fairly is important for building sector reputation, as such players should strive for fair treatment of their policyholders. Insurers should also embrace treating customers' fairly principles.

9.2 Breakdown of complaints by entity

9.2.1 For the quarter ended 31 March 2023, about 64% of the complaints were against three (3) entities, which are Econet, Champions and Zimnat Lion Insurance with 39.29%, 14.29%, and 10.71%, respectively.
